

NAACP Renews Clemency Plea for Lt. Leon A. Gilbert

BRIDE-TO-BE: St. Bridget's Roman Catholic Church, Xenia, O., will be scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Elizabeth Ann Taliaferro and Jacques Norman Sneed on Wednesday evening, June 11, at 5:30. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Taliaferro, Washington, D. C., and the groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sneed, 2137 North Capitol Ave. Mrs. Melvin E. Short will be matron of honor at the wedding, and the Misses Anita Jamison, Sara Clemons, Savannah Sneed, Marguerite Washington, and Goldie Smith will be bridesmaids. The groom's brother, Robert W. Sneed, will be best man, while the ushers will be Messrs. Claude Stapleton, George Morton, James Compton, Maurice Edelen, and Miles Turner. Both young people are June, 1952 graduates of Central State College, Wilberforce, O.

South Africans Plan For "Resistance Day"

Truman Asked To Free Air Ace Lt. L. A. Gilbert

NEW YORK (ANP) — Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, last week renewed a request for the release of Lt. Leon A. Gilbert, now serving a 20 year term on conviction of "misbehavior before the enemy" in Korea. The recent case involving pilots in the U. S. A. Air Force who refused to fly and the role of Gen. Francis T. Dodd and Gen. Charles F. Colson in the Kori Island prisoner-of-war camp fiasco have aroused new interest in Lt. Gilbert who, at first was sentenced to death for refusing to lead his men toward what he termed certain death. This subsequently was reduced to 20 years in prison. In view of the rather light sentences given the pilots for refusing to fly, Marshall has appealed for the immediate freedom of Gilbert.

In a letter to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn, military aide to the President, Marshall challenged the general's attempt to draw a fine line.

Trial of Alleged Postal Theft Ring Couple Delayed

The trial of two members of the alleged ring that perpetrated the largest postal money order theft in history of Indiana was continued Tuesday because of illness of one of the defendants. Andrew Beeler, 25, was reported by his attorney as too ill to stand trial in federal court on the charge he and his brother, Robert L. Beeler, 23, were members of a gang that robbed merchants of Indianapolis and other Indiana cities of $7,500 by fraudulent money orders last fall.

Postal inspectors singled out Andrew as the brains and master-mind of the 10-member ring that stole, forged and cashed postal money orders with the skill and finesse of experienced criminals.

Seven members of the gang have been sentenced for their part in the boldly conceived, and boldly carried out scheme. Mrs. Frances Watson, sister of the Beeler brothers is awaiting sentencing by Federal Court Judge William E. Steckler on a plea of guilty. The young woman, accused by postal inspectors of writing the spurious money orders for the gang, switched her plea at first electing to stand trial in defiance of a mass of evidence gathered by the postal authorities. The seven other members of the alleged gang readily pleaded guilty and are serving sentences of three to seven years in federal penitentiaries.

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa (ANP) — Unrest and tension rose in the Union of South Africa as 10,000,000 natives colored persons and Indians announced that they would begin their passive resistance against the white supremacy government of the Nationalist party on June 26. Other developments stirring up tension in this nation were: The South African parliament passed a law curbing the power of the Union's Supreme court. Four nonwhite leaders, all told by the government to resign from public life because of their campaign against Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's policies, have refused to cease being active.

Mass Violation Planned Passive resistance, made famous by the late Mohandas Gandhi spiritual leader of India, will begin on a nationwide scale, June 26. According to James S. Moroka, president of the African National Congress, more than 10,000 volunteers are expected to disobey all apartheid (strict racial segregation) laws passed by the Malan government.

These people, he said, hope to win the jails. At present Negroes need passes to leave their reservations. Each racial group—Negroes, Indians, coloreds and whites—must live, ride, and work apart from any other group.

Nonwhites outnumber whites 4 to 1, but have no political power. Only the signature of Dr. Ernest G. Jansen, governor-general of South Africa, is needed to make into law a bill to make parliament the nation's highest judicial authority. This bill was proposed after the nation's Supreme court recently ruled that a law establishing separate voter lists for coloreds and whites was unconstitutional. This high court action was a setback to plans of Malan to reduce the voting power of the colored people. Because of this action, the parliament has now passed a bill making itself the top constitutional authority in the land.

Police Officer To Face Charge Of Duty Neglect

Patrolman Charles E. Jewell is in trouble again—with the Board of Public Safety.

Jewell will face the police department executive authority June 18 in a trial which will determine his guilt or innocence of charges of failure to make hourly reports and conduct unbecoming an officer. The young officer was suspended by superior officers after a report that he had been found asleep in his car Memorial Day in the 1800 block Columbia avenue.

He was discovered and awakened by a police inspector after he failed to make three hourly calls to headquarters. Jewell told a police trial board that referred the case to the higher authority that he had been putting in time on another job at a filling station at 21st and Capitol avenue. He was suspended from the department six months last year after he had been accused of extorting bribes from couples parked in a

Marital Plans Sustained by Mixed Couple

RICHMOND (Special) — The principals in an interracial romance, two Earlham College seniors, who have figured in national news in recent weeks received their degrees during commencement rites Monday. They were scheduled to get married in Ithaca, N.Y., the home of the bridegroom, on Wednesday.

The two young people are Miss Grace Cunningham, age 22, Berkeley, Calif., daughter of a social

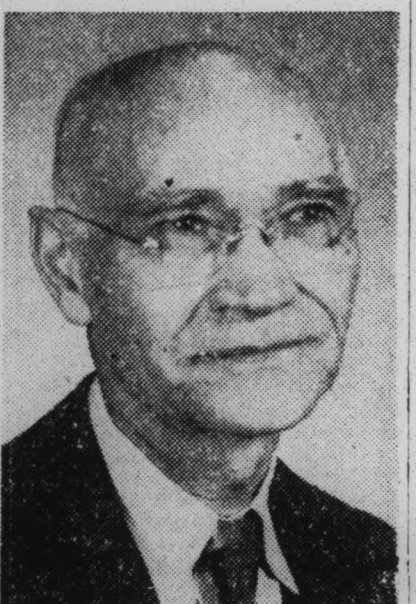

In a long-distance telephone call Thursday with the Ithaca (N.Y.) Journal, The Recorder learned that Miss Grace Cunningham, Berkeley, Calif., and Robert McAllister of Ithaca were married Wednesday afternoon.

The marriage of the Earlham College graduates took place at Barnes Hall, a Cornell University religious center. The parents of both the bride and groom were present for the ceremonies and extended their blessing to the union.

worker, also a graduate of Earlham College; and Robert McAllister, of Ithaca, the son of a mine and former Congregational missionary to Africa. Miss Cunningham majored in political science and her husband.

TWO HELD AS ALLEGED SLAYERS OF LANDLORD

EARLHAM GRADS SNUB RACIAL BIAS: Shown above, Miss Grace Cunningham Berkeley, Calif., and Robert McAllister, Ithaca, N.Y., received their degrees at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., this week. They were scheduled to get married on Wednesday. The announcement of their engagement in April created a furor on the campus and made national news.

Indians' Pope, Troupe, Smith In Headlines

Three sepiu players of the Indianapolis Indians are making news these days. Dave Pope, the "Willie Mays of 1952," had hit in 16 consecutive games and was leading the Tribe in batting with .354 through Wednesday. His great defensive play in center field has fans yelling, "Get yourself a ticket to Cleveland, Dave!"

Quincy Troupe arrived Sunday and took over the Indians' first-string catching chores, hitting .286 through Wednesday.

Al Smith, benched third baseman, was making a great comeback in right field. He fielded flawlessly and hit a single, double and triple Wednesday. The all-around athlete is also being talked of as a pitcher.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the Indian news was omitted from the sports page this week. The Recorder has regular press facilities equal to daily newspapers at Victory Field, and full coverage will be resumed next week.

Brutal Murder Charge Faced By Man, Mate

A man and his wife were being held this week on murder charges in the brutal axe slaying of an Army veteran with whom they lived.

Earl Beason, 38, and his wife, Bertha Beason, 34, were arrested at their home, 748 Colton street, on Memorial Day, after police called by them discovered the body of their landlord, John Edward McKay, 45 years old, lying across a bed, the top of his head bashed in.

The Beasons told Detectives Garland Jones, Fred Starks, Forrest McKeelhan and Frank Loz

that McKay was killed during a fight in which he attacked Beason with a knife after Beason had caught McKay in an attempt to rape Mrs. Beason.

The Beasons told the officers that McKay, a bachelor, had drawn his knife and threatened Beason when the latter upbraided him for the alleged rape attempt.

They also said that the husband, in trying to defend himself, grabbed the axe and swung violently at his attacker, striking him over the head.

Beason said he struck McKay two or more times, caving in his skull.

Police Doubt Story

The officers expressed doubt toward the couple's version of the killing because, for one thing, there was no sign of a struggle, nor anything to indicate McKay had got out of bed.

He had a knife but the police found it closed in his trousers pocket. They said their first impression was that the man had possibly been beaten to death while asleep.

In searching for a motive, police were investigating the possibility that McKay, the

'Save NAACP' Mass Meeting At Mt. Moriah

A "Save the NAACP" Mass Meeting will be held at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, 15th street and Martindale avenue, on Tuesday, June 10, at 8 p.m.

Eastside residents and persons throughout the city are urged to pour out by the hundreds in order to save the fighting organization that has done so much to improve civil rights in Indianapolis.

The meeting is planned, in the spirit of Paul Feyer, to sound the alarm and awaken local citizens so that the membership drive will be a success.

Rev. George Tate, assistant pastor of the church and co-chairman of the NAACP drive, called on all ministers of the city to open their churches and give their vital support to a mammoth membership crusade.

Rev. Tate said there will be no collection Tuesday, but only the obtaining of memberships.

Veterans, Dependents Get Increases Under New Law

WASHINGTON (ANP) — More than 3,000,000 veterans and dependents of deceased veterans will receive increases in compensation and pension payments under a bill which becomes effective July 1, the Veterans Administration announced this week.

Another bill also has been signed into law. It increases the amount of income a person may have and still be eligible for pension payments in nonservice-connected disability and death cases.

Under the old limits, an otherwise eligible veteran or widow having income in excess of 1,000 annually, without dependents, or $2,500 with dependents could not qualify for pensions. These limits have been raised to $1,400 and $2,700, respectively.

VA explained that compensation is payable for service-connected disabilities, whereas pension is payable for permanent and total disability resulting from nonservice-connected conditions.

Monthly Rates Hiked

Under the new law, all monthly rates of compensation paid veterans for service-connected disabilities, rated from 10 to 49 percent, are increased by 5 percent, while those rated from 50 to 100 percent are increased by 15 percent.

The new rates will affect the nearly 2,000,000 wartime and post-Korea veterans who were receiving compensation payments on March 31, 1952.

Monthly compensation rates for dependents of deceased veterans who died of service-connected disabilities and who served either during wartime or since June 27, 1950, revealed that no increases were provided for widows without children or for dependent parents of deceased veterans.

Two other pension rates that affect veterans of World War I and II and those with service since June 27, 1950 are raised by the new law. One includes such veterans who have received pension for a nonservice-connected condition continuously for 10 years or who reach age 65. Their rate will be raised from $72 to $75 a month.

The other includes such veterans who are blind or who are helpless as to need the regular aid and attendance of another person. Their rate will be increased from $120 to $129 a month.

An Appreciative Audience Greet Recorder "Dream Band" Concert

An appreciative audience greeted the 1952 "Dream Band" winners at the Sunset Terrace last Sunday night, and enjoyed a 4-hour concert and dance that was hailed as the most outstanding musical event ever staged in the local dancery.

The gala affair climaxed 3-weeks of balloting in The Recorder's Annual Musicians, Entertainers and Vocalists Poll, and saw winners in 13 categories receive beautiful trophies, donated by local business firms and individuals plus engraved certificates of excellence in the field of popular music.

The mammoth bill presented five combos, five vocalists and one dancer, plus the winning "Dream Band." Those appearing on the bill included Harvey French's Combo, Merrill Laswell Combo, Count Fisher's Combo, Charles Cox's Combo and West Montgomery's Combo. These units represented George's Bar and Orchid Room, Henri's Lounge, Tillie's Lounge, and Royal Root Club. Singers included Dorothy Simmons, Pro McClam, Eve Renee, Tina, and Little Peco with Skinny Alexander doing the dancing.

The affair was another promotion of The Recorder public relations department, with proceeds going to its Christmas Cheer Fund. Assisting in the presentation, were Bob Womack, assistant director of the poll, and Leo Lesser Jr., master of ceremonies. Leland Bailey, advertising manager, had charge of ticket sales.

Much credit is due the following business firms and individuals who helped to make the bill a tremendous success:

Stark, Wetzel & Co. Jacobs Clothing Co. Wickliff Cleaners. Video Sales & Service. Indianapolis Clowns Baseball

Team. Sea Ferguson's Fun Bowl. Wesley O. Jackson's Cannon Ball Racing Association.

Ned Bess. Reddie T. Avington.

The Indianapolis Recorder, Advertising, Circulation and News Departments.

The Recorder Cheer Fund also extends hearty thanks to Denver D. Ferguson, Taylor Seath, Lloyd Stone and Mr. Broadus of the Sunset staff for use of the hall and for their wonderful cooperation. (By THE SAINT.)

SCHOOL NO. 37 GRADUATES LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY

The largest class in the history of School No. 37 held its graduation exercises in the school auditorium Thursday morning, June 5. Seventy pupils were members of the graduating class. Mrs. Jeanette S. Cary is principal of the school.

The exercises carried out the theme of this year's exhibit, "Moral and Spiritual Values." The auditorium of the school had been the scene of a beautiful all-school exhibit portraying the theme.

The topics reflected in the exhibit include helpfulness, friendship, honesty and courtesy. The Junior high school exhibit illustrates interdependence of living things, home, school, cleanliness, community relations and the United Nations.

Under the present integration plan grade school graduates may elect to go to the high school of their choice. Twenty-six will go to Attucks, 8 to Shortridge, 33 to Technical and one is moving out of the city.

Members of the graduating class are as follows:

SPINGARN MEDAL GRANTED TO H. T. MOORE POSTHUMOUSLY

NEW YORK (ANP)—The 37th Spingarn Medal will be posthumously awarded to the late Harry T. Moore, the victim of a Christmas-night bombing at his home in Mims, Fla., Dr. Louis T. Wright, chairman of the NAACP board of directors, announced last week. Moore was secretary of the Florida NAACP.

The Spingarn Medal is awarded annually by the NAACP to a Negro American whose achievement is judged the most outstanding of the year.

The medal will be presented June 27, during the 43rd annual NAACP convention in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Rosa B. Moore, 83, mother of the honoree, will accept the award in his behalf. Moore's wife also died as a result of injuries received from the bombing.

The citation accompanying the medal to Moore specifically reads: "In the truest sense exemplifies the truth that 'greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.'"

Moore is commended for his courageous fight for greater political participation by Negroes in Florida, for the abolition of segregation at the University of Florida.

for justice in the courts, for equal educational opportunities for colored children, for the equalization of teachers' salaries, and "against all the... manifestations of racism which flourished in his home state."

Former recipients of the medal include Mrs. Mabel Keaton Staupers, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Judge William Hastie, Walter White, Thurgood Marshall, Miss Marian Anderson, and Dr. Louis T. Wright.

Although the presentation of the Spingarn Medal is expected to highlight the convention, another event, a forum on segregation, will attract much attention.

This feature will be sparked by two noted members of the legal staff of the NAACP who will lead discussions.

Leading two half-day sessions will be Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, and Daniel E. Byrd, field secretary for the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund, Inc.

The morning session will be devoted to disclosing the adverse effects of enforced segregation and the afternoon session to methods of effectively combating this segregation.

Still another event which should prove interesting will be the dramatization of "Fire in the Flint," by Walter White.

New Boy Scout District Formed In Marion County

To better serve the needs of the growing demand of Scouting in Marion County, a new District will be created in the Northeastern Section of the County, Mr. A. W. Macy, Vice-President of the Central Indiana Council, a Red Feather Agency, has been appointed to develop the necessary personnel and detail to establish this section. Mr. Charles K. Hatch, has been secured to act as Field Scout Executive for this new area.

The recent Census figures has brought out the conclusion that the tremendously rapid growth in population in the North and Eastern section of the city and the popularity of the Boy Scout Program in that area, that some action must be taken to better serve these boys and the conclusion has been to form a third District, which would lessen the Professional load and give the committees a greater opportunity to work. The new Northeast District will be composed of segment from the East and North District.

Mr. Hatch, who has been employed to aid in the creation of this new District is a graduate of Marquette Michigan Teacher's College, and taught school in Michigan for three years. During the war he served in the Air Corp and then attended the National Training School for Scout Executives. He served in Pontiac, Michigan four years as Assistant Scout Executive. Mr. Hatch is married and has three children and hopes to have the family here in Indianapolis as quickly as possible.

M. and M. Club Costume Ball, Gay Parties Climax Exciting Week-End

Social Scene . . .

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

If this column seems not to sparkle with wit and brilliance, it is simply that the wit-less, brilliant-less writer is so pooped out after a week-end of hilarity and a week of dashing hither and yon that he has no energy to call upon the demons that be for inspiration.

Biggest item over the full week-end was, of course, the M. and M. club dance, given in the spacious Democratic club hall Saturday night. With the big amount of news for this week's column, there cannot be a "spacious" write-up, unfortunately. Suffice to say that the decorations were up to the club's usual inimitable standard and that the music was the best I've heard at any recent dance.

The dance was, you know, a costume ball, and the highlight was the naming of prize-winners for costumes, chosen by a panel of three judges including Mrs. Verla Whitney, Mrs. Alma Jones, and one Richard C., who, after much puzzlement, announced Mrs. Juanita Bobson Lane of Louisville and Mrs. Albertine Hall as winners for the women and Albert Spurlock and Thomas Horner for the men.

Mrs. Lane had cleverly pinned loads of daisies on an evening gown and wore an outlandish hat, while Mrs. Hall was in a somewhat "transcendentalized" gypsy costume. Spurlock was an easy popular favorite in his hilarious little boy outfit (complete to short pants), and Horner, while not being too easily identifiable as anything in particular, did look a riot in a coat of many colors and a very much wilted peony.

Many of the other costumes were praiseworthy, such as Mrs. Sophia Ramsey in a very beautiful Eastern-looking affair, and Mrs. Mary Ward Roberts and Bill More, whose clown outfits complemented each other, but there again space forbids going into detail.

Listed as officers and members of the club are Mesdames Nancy Powell, president; Ernestine McCree, vice-president; Osmia Spurlock, secretary; Mary Hawkins, assistant secretary; Carolyn Ray, treasurer; Ruth Bell, Fannie Blackburn, Shirley Evans, Martha Horner, Dolores Hummons, Helen Lucas, Maenell Newsome, Sophia Ramsey, Kathleen Sharpe, and Hortense Shelton.

After the dance the party moved almost en masse out to Mary Roberts's, where she and Willie Moore had a very lavish cocktail party.

By the time most of the guests had arrived, they probably couldn't see the huge basket of red and pink gladioluses in front of the fireplace, although they probably could see the edges of the large palms which flanked it on each side. On top of the fireplace, in addition to beautiful deep red roses, were miniature race cars, each one with a winner's flag—quite a feat!

Tillman DeGravenhede and Raymond Pettie had quite a professional touch in mixing any kind of drink imaginable and serving same—Tillman kept me on my thumb watching him maneuver through a crowded room with a trayful of glasses above the crowd's heads.

What with a top man like Bill Moore doing his own catering, you can imagine how superb the food was! In these days ham, turkey, roast beef, and shrimp salad! And to finish a very pleasant evening—oops, morning—a spectacular sight while Bill fixed each brilliant (pardon me if the French is incorrectly spelled; I'm an illiterate, you know).

Earlier in the evening the Mary E. Cable club had given a lovely informal party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland V. Bailey honoring Dr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Cable, formerly of this city, but now living in New York City, who were here as guest of Miss Lillian Naomi Wortham.

The table, attractively set with crystal and silver, was centered with a beautiful floral arrangement given by Mrs. Bailey's niece, little Miss Joan Arnett, Detroit.

Members of the club are Mesdames Lucas Willis, Russell A. Lane, J. F. Johnson, Ardell Cross, William Rice, Leland Bailey, Ulysses Orrid, and Selc Bates, Miss Hazel Alexander, and Marimon Hansberry.

Miss Worham was a guest at the affair, during which the club gave Dr. and Mrs. Cable a beautiful silver vegetable dish.

On Sunday afternoon the Cables were dinner guests of Mrs. Cora Willis, and they were also present at the after-dance party at Mary's.

The city was loaded with guests for the week-end, naturally, and all of them seem to have made everything Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Neisler had as their guests Atty and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Anna Mae Temple, and Hobart Chatman, all of Chicago.

Mrs. Temple, Chatman and the Neisler's son, Anton, viewed the races, and on Saturday evening (early that is) they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Heideburg.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanley had a full house over the week-end, and part of the crowd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butler, cousins from Oakland, Calif., are still here. Also visiting them are Atty and Mrs. Harry McAlpin, and Mrs. Juanita Lane, Louisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bates, Detroit.

Dr. L. Randle Young also had a rather full house, his guests including Mr. and Mrs. Brud Holland and Jerry Harmon, all of Westchester, Pa., and Miss Julie Hayden, East Orange, N. J.

Visiting Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Pritchett were Mesdames Noel Rowell and Wendell Ray and Miss E. Hel Spencer, all from Chicago. Also from Chicago was Miss Freda deKnight, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shatz. Still another from Chicago was Mrs. Alvia Stephens house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. G. King. Miss Rose Ella King was also at home and gave a party Saturday afternoon for her "Buckingham Party" hostesses, an affair I was sorry to have missed, but about which more later.

Visiting Dr. and Mrs. Lillian B. Meriwether were Dr. Roland Chatman and Mrs. Louise Taylor of Detroit and Jack LeFleur from Memphis, while Dr. and Mrs. James Anderson had as guest Mrs. Lucy Belle Morris, also of Detroit.

The Andersons had quite a party going to the races, including the Hollands, Mrs. Lane, Messrs. and Mesdames George Pope and Edward Banks, and Dr. Joseph H. Ward.

Another visitor in town, although hardly just a week-end guest, has been Miss Clarence Baxter, who will return Saturday to her home in Washington, D. C., after spending two weeks here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baxter.

On Saturday, the Baxters entertained at a dinner party celebrating their 37th wedding anniversary, when guests, in addition to Miss Baxter, included Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter and son, Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stewart and Erskine Roberts.

With everybody else coming here, Mrs. F. B. Ransom still followed her custom and spent the holiday at her cottage at Fox Lake.

After that busy week-end (there were guests of smaller affairs which, while keeping me on the go, were hardly newsworthy; I see another busy one in sight, beginning with this afternoon and tonight (Thursday this is being written)).

I was very pleasantly surprised to receive an invitation from Herbert J. Yates, president of Republic Pictures, to attend a cocktail party at the Lincoln Hotel to meet Bill Shirley, Rev. Middleton, Muriel Lawrence, and Eileen Chris, stars of "I Dream of Jeanie," which is being premiered at the Circle theater.

In addition, another invitation came to attend the premiere as guest of Mr. Yates, Civic Theater, Advertising Club, and Shortridge Alumni Association.

Speaking of invitations, comes one to the wedding of Pauline Clara Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finch E. Sharpe, and Louis Richard Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer V. Burch, bridegroom, on June 18 in Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. H. H. Murray was hostess to the season's last regular meeting of the Me-De-Phar Guild, when officers were elected. They are Mesdames Otto B. Paige, president; Frank Chowning, vice-president; George Dixon, recording secretary; Robert Briggs, corresponding secretary; R. B. McArthur, financial secretary; and Charleston B. Cox, treasurer.

CUT WEDDING CAKE: Sgt. and Mrs. Robert H. Butler cut their wedding cake at a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips, 2257 North Kenwood avenue, following their wedding in SS. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Cathedral on Saturday morning, May 17. The bride is the former Miss Ruth Phillips.

Ruth Phillips, Sgt. Robert H. Butler Wed In Roman Catholic Cathedral

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday morning, May 17, by Miss Ruth Phillips and Sgt. Robert H. Butler in the chapel of SS. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Cathedral, with the Rev. F. Reidy officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips, 2257 North Kenwood avenue, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Butler, Dallas, Tex.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Mary Alice McKeller, sister of the bride, wore green lace and net over green tulle and carried green and yellow gardenias with yellow satin ribbon streamers.

Pink tulle was worn under pink lace and net by Miss Blanche Phillips, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, and Mrs. James E. Phillips, sister-in-law of the bride, who was the other bridesmaid. They also carried large bunches of blue gardenias with green satin streamers. The bridesmaids and matron of honor wore gowns fashioned from silk tulle and net to match that of the bride.

Little Billie McKeller, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer, and little Judy Russ was flower girl, both wore white.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore long white nylon tulle with white chantilly

Auxiliary, will be elected at this Friday's meeting in the post office building, which hostesses will be Mesdames Matt Williams, Leon Hill, Osber Ballenger, Richard Miller, Leonard Moss, Nellie Watts, and Minnie Jackson.

And, to end up on a pleasant note, I see that Mrs. Amos A. Thompson is the subject of an article in this month's "Baton," a magazine published by RCA. Mrs. Thompson is lauded as associate editor for the Indianapolis plant edition of the RCA Victor Family News, a newspaper published by and for company employees. Good work, Harriet!

Women's Federated Club News

By CLARA PHILLIPS

Mrs. Maud Robinson, president of the Elizabeth Carter City Council of Colored Women's Clubs, gave her final report at the last meeting and thanked the members for their cooperation during the four years of her presidency. She closed her talk by reciting the poem . . . "Others."

Following the presentation of all reports and announcements, the nominating committee presented the new slate of officers, with Mrs. Julia Jefferson presiding.

Named were Mesdames Blanche Cross, president; Lottie Stith, first vice-president; Clara Phillips, second vice-president; Haydee Wilson, recording secretary; Flossie Weir, assistant recording secretary; Dorothea Breeding, treasurer; Clara Johnson, financial secretary; Lula Beale, parliamentarian; Bertha Randolph, chaplain; Louise Hollowell recording secretary; and Ruth Browder organizer.

At the close of the meeting members of the Legd-A-Hand club served a dainty luncheon.

The next meeting of the council will be a pitch-in affair with all clubs participating. New officers will be installed and plans will be made to attend the state convention. Mrs. Dorothea Breeding is in charge of the transportation to South Bend.

The Alpha Home Association will have a covered dish dinner next Thursday evening at 6. All members are asked to come out and bring dishes. Reports from the Donors Day dinner will be made. Mrs. Geneva of Twins is president.

Mrs. Emma McCullough, 556 Eugene street, will be hostess to the Altruistic club next Thursday. The president, Mrs. Viola Smith, urges all members to be present. J. Barclay, Pontiac, Mich., was a visitor at the last meeting. Mrs. Alvia B. Hughes is reporter.

Mrs. Bertha Humphrey was hostess to the Lend-A-Hand club last Monday night. Mrs. Carrie Diggs was elected delegate to the state convention.

Mrs. Blanche Dawson, while in Michigan, attended a meeting of the Michigan State Association of Colored Women and brought back some echoes, including a paper "The Club Observer." The Michigan association sponsors a home for aged club women.

Elected officers by the local club were Mesdames Clara Phillips, president; Fannie Bartlett, vice-president; Blanche Dawson, recording secretary; Irene Simms, assistant recording secretary; Bennie Holbrook, financial secretary; Bertha Humphrey, treasurer; Ella Green, chaplain; and Frankie Dawson, corresponding secretary.

Plans were made for the annual tea to be held June 20 on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Hester Young, 837 West 27th street.

All final reports will be due at the next meeting, to be held in the home of Mrs. Minnie Ward, 1122 West 27th street, on June 16.

County Women Plan Program

The Marion County Home Guild, the permanent name chosen by a group of Indianapolis and Marion County women as an organization to cooperate with the management of the home, will give its first entertainment there next Tuesday afternoon at 1.

Mrs. F. E. Spindell, in charge of the program, will present the Mcuff-sities in the auditorium and in the wards. In charge of refreshments will be Mesdames Elizabeth Bassett, Clara Bader, Clarence Hirth, John Toon, Edward T. Farrell, and Harry Waterman, assisted by the newly elected officers Mesdames William F. Noelle, president; Alice Leonard, vice-president; Ross Graham, secretary; Clarence R. Weaver, treasurer; George L. Bradshaw, corresponding secretary; Peter Mangan, parliamentarian; Frank Woerner, chaplain; and Charleston Cox, Walter Kelly, Dailly McCoy, and John Maneck, directors.

As the superintendent, Daily McCov, has no secretary and his clerical force consists of a bookkeeper and her assistant, the guild will act as a clearing house for entertainments, projects, contributions, or services which clubs, church groups, or other organizations may wish to sponsor. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Noelle, MA. 4249, or Mrs. Bradshaw, HU. 6269.

CONTEST WINNERS: Little Miss Kay Elaine Taylor was first prize winner in the baby contest sponsored by the Rose Bud club last Sunday. She is the niece of Mrs. Jessie Taylor, 505 Fayette street, apartment 2, where the contest was held. The second prize was won by little Frank Curry Jr., 6½-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curry, 2818 Martindale avenue, and nephew of Miss Helen Curry, 752 Utica street. Mrs. Viola Dodson is president of the club, and Mrs. Beatrice Wilson is secretary.

Chatting with the FAC

By ELSA JACKSON

To all graduates of this year of 1952 the FAC extends congratulations and prays that God be with you always in your efforts to make a place for yourselves.

Friends are reminded that the educational committee will sponsor its annual breakfast-bridge Saturday morning the FAC auditorium.

Busses going to Cincinnati Sunday for the Brooklyn Dodgers—Cincinnati Reds double-header will leave the club home at 8 a.m. sharp. Those planning to go should be on time, or they may be left here.

The "Duke of Ellington," who gave a concert here at the Murat theater last Sunday, was entertained in the FAC home following the show. Arrangements for the affair were made by Arthur Zinkin Jr.

Mrs. Willa Owsley and her sister, Mrs. Fannie Hyde, daughter, Mrs. Doris Stokes; and grandson, Holsey Hickman, motored to Nashville for the graduation of Miss Betty Jean Owsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holsey Owsley, from Fisk University. The group were guests for a week at Jubilee Hall on the campus. They also visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shearer.

Patricia Hickman, granddaughter of the Owsleys now attending Tennessee State College, returned to Indianapolis with the group.

Mrs. Nora Williams Hector is working with the NAACP in production of a play "Toll the Liberty Bell," to be presented in the CAHS auditorium on Friday night, June 20.

A lucky person on the membership committee will win a clock radio for bringing in the largest number of members for the year. The award will be made Monday night during the regular monthly meeting.

Miss Veanie Dobbins, president of the well-known Colonial Matrons club, will spend eight days in Houston, Tex., attending the National Baptist Sunday School Congress as superintendent in charge of the school of methods.

Local NAACP Chapter To Sponsor "Toll The Liberty Bell," Factual Play

The local branch of the NAACP has announced plans for the presentation of the nationally acclaimed "Toll the Liberty Bell" on Friday night, June 20, in the auditorium of Crispus Attucks High School.

The production, written for the Madison Square Garden meeting of the NAACP of March 6 by Dick Campbell, is a factual presentation of cases which have attracted national attention and which the NAACP has handled.

Called a "dramatic statement of facts as they were, as they are, as we hope they will be," the production pictures the cases of Rev. Isaac Simmons, Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher at the University of Oklahoma, Elbert Williams, and the Harry Moores, each of which was a spectacular case raising the ire of decent minded people all over the country.

The four cases will be tied together by a narrator, Roy Wood, radio announcer at WIBC, who will be surrounded by a cast of thirty.

D. W. D. Hector is producer of the local presentation, and Mrs. Mahala Beckwith is general chairman.

Mesdames Edna Johnson and Mary P. McGuire are chairman and co-chairman of publicity, and Mrs. Dorothy Hicks heads the ticket committee, assisted by Mrs. Harriet Dix.

Dr. J. A. G. Jordan, president of the local branch, will introduce the narrator.

School Children Give Style Show

Pupils of School No. 36 presented their spring program "Children on Parade," a children's style show with songs, dances, and recordings, at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA on May 16, under auspices of the P.T.A. Teachers of the school had trained the children.

The closing P.T.A. meeting of the year was held on Wednesday of last week, when new officers were installed. They included Mesdames Clinton Marsh, president; Ralph Jones, vice-president; Rufus Myers, secretary; Howard Maxey, corresponding secretary; and Mary Harper, treasurer.

A party for the traffic boys of the school was given Tuesday. At the close of the luncheon, sterling silver traffic pins, an annual gift of the P.T.A., were presented to the boys who will enter the seventh grade next school year.

Mrs. Doris Faulkner, who has been teacher of instrumental music classes at the school, was honored at a luncheon given by the teachers on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Faulkner will teach music in the elementary schools of Muncie next year.

TEA TO BENEFIT YOUTH CENTER

In line with a recognition of the need for a youth center, the Daughters Elks State Youth Center Committee will sponsor a tea in the tearoom of the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA Sunday afternoon from 5 to 7.

Guest speaker will be Atty. Frank R. Beckwith, and music will be furnished by the Glenda Squires Barnes Studio. All proceeds from the tea will go into the proposed youth center fund, and donations, regardless of how small, are requested.

Mrs. Katie Miller is chairman of the committee. Mrs. Marie Walker is secretary, and Mrs. Ada A. Jones is treasurer. Trustees are Mesdames Nettie King, Josephine Burns, and Edna Collins.

CHICAGOAN VISITS SISTER IN CITY

Miss Hester Frierson, Chicago, was week-end guest of her sister, Miss Florence Frierson, 520 West Michigan street.

While here she was entertained at dinner, along with her sister, by Mrs. Cora Reed, 2550 Sangster avenue.

On Sunday she was entertained by another sister, Mrs. Marie Pearl Jordan, 1717 Vandeman st. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Partee, the Misses Flora King, Peggy Dockery, Margaret G. Lunceford, and Florence Frierson, and Messrs. Philip Jewell and Ralph Woods.

ROY WHEATLEYS ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wheatley, 1337 West 26th street, have as guest for the week her sister, Mrs. James Irwin, of Springfield, Ill. The Wheatleys and Irwins are formerly of Quincy, Ill.

Mr. Irwin moved to Springfield in 1941 to take a state position, while Mr. Wheatley was transferred with the Smith Industries to Indianapolis as a shipping clerk.

RELATIVES VISIT R. A. WARRENS

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Warren have as house guests Mrs. Warren's mother, Mrs. Fannie Jefferson, Atlanta, and sister, Mrs. Ebbie Dorsey, Fayetteville, N.C.

Mrs. Dorsey is a member of the Fayetteville chapter of Links, Inc., and Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

They are here for the graduation of the Warrens' son, Richard A. Warren, from Indiana Central College.

Mrs. James Goodwin Entertains Brother

Mrs. James Goodwin, 713 North West street, is entertaining as house guest her brother, L. H. Cotton, Oakland, Calif. Mr. Cotton, a carpenter, is employed by the government in Oakland.

En route home he will visit his alma mater, Tuskegee Institute, and will also visit in Houston, Tex. before returning to Oakland, where he has been for the past ten years.

FIGURE IN BABY CONTEST: Mrs. Margaret Skaggs, Steven Easley, and Vickie Moore figured prominently in a baby contest in the home of Mrs. Ozie May Thomas, 2838 Highland place, on May 23, for benefit of the Pastor's Aid club of Metropolitan Baptist Church. Mrs. Skaggs was sponsor of the contest; Steven, thirteen-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Easley, 410 Cora street, was first place winner; and two-year-old Vickie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moore, 1218 Belmont street, won the second prize cash award.

Mrs. Skaggs, who lives at 220 West 21st street, also won the award among four appointed captains of the Pastor's aid group, which sponsored various affairs. Mrs. Maggie Seebree is president of the group, Mrs. Mary Miller is secretary, and Mrs. Lucy Smith is treasurer. Pastor of the church is Rev. William F. Sweett.

Dance Workshop Promises Unique, Colorful Show On June 9

Plans have been completed for the eighth annual recital of the Billy Smith Douglass Dance Workshop, to be presented Monday night at 8 in the auditorium of Crispus Attucks High School.

This year's program promises to be as unique and colorful as any ever presented to the discriminating public of Indianapolis. The children of the Dance Workshop will take an imaginary journey to far-off and fabulous places.

DANCE WORKSHOP BALLERINA: Julia Butts in a comic version of a ballerina is just one of the many talented young people who will appear in the annual recital of the Billy Smith Douglass Dance Workshop next Monday night in the auditorium of Crispus Attucks High School.

Comic, talented Julia Butts plays the part of the lovely lady who is told to "get lost." In her own inimitable manner she does just that. The audience will travel with her as she tours the world.

Her itinerary will begin in Peru, where guest artist Jon Lei will dance the role of High Priest in "Legend of the Sun Virgin." The lovely voice of Ronella Sanders will be heard in the role of the High Priestess. The virgin will be Brenda and Carol Kelly.

Other artists include: Lynn Moses, Barbara Jenkins, Hazel Ward, Alexis Sarver, Delores Douglas, Sharon Suber, Carolyn Stephens, and Fay Brownlee. A Chinese garden is the charming setting where little Jimmy Ruth Anderson dances. At the Orinoco in Venezuela we find Heler Baker, her background no more exotic than she.

We travel next to Siam to watch Brenda Boles, Wilma Porter, Alice Roberts, Gilda Jackson, Sharon Wilson, Betty McCatharine, and Jon Myers in the stylized movements of a temple dance. Delores Scaths displays for excellent advantage the beautiful movements of a dance of Brazil in "Jungle Flower." In Paris we find Eleanor Johnson, and in spite of the beauty of May Parce, she long for home and this she expresses in "Mood Parisienne." From Paris we go to Africa, where Helen Baker dances the "Ritual of the Savage" as only Helen can. We embark by spaceship to the moon, where we see Joan Myers, Alice Roberts, Delores White, Delores Scaths, Wilma Porter, Gilda Jackson, Betty McCatharine, Eleanor Swatts, and Sharon Wilson in "Lunar Rhapsody."

What could be more thrilling than to conclude our trip by watching guest artist Jon Lei as he Moon God in "Celestial Nocturne," a wonderful climax to a wonderful trip!

In addition to Travel Blues, the Workshop will present a varied and interesting program. Children playing an important role in Monday night's program, together with those already mentioned, are Caron Booth, Zonda Creighton, Frances Craig, Susan Davis, Veronica Garen, Sharon Jones, Sheila Moore, Magdalene Robertson, Susan Smith, Cheryl Thurman, Jeannette Walston, Patricia Williams, Judith Bell, Patricia Anderson, Renee Grant, Patricia Loving, Nancy Pinkston, Doris Rhine, Etta Lee White, and Jacqueline Weaver.

Keep your annual appointment with the Dance Workshop on Monday night, June 9, at 8 in the CAHS auditorium! (ADV.)

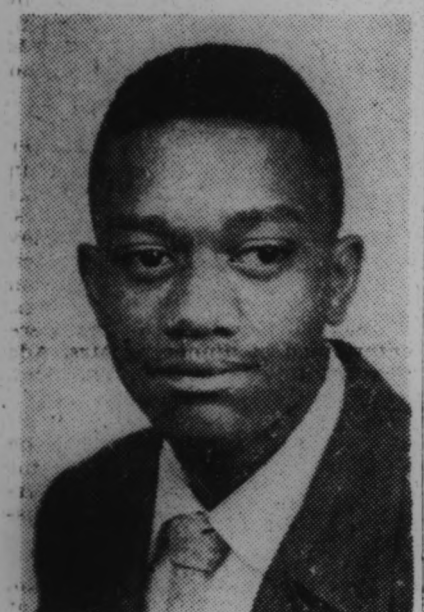

PASTOR'S AID CLOSING DRIVE

The Pastor's Aid group of Metropolitan Baptist Church closed a financial drive on Monday of last week with a banquet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Word, 1133 West 27th street, with Mesdames Emma Word and Alberta Abernathy as hostesses.

Mrs. Mary Miller, secretary of the group, presented prizes to the four appointed captains supporting the drive. They included Mesdames Margaret Skaggs, Pearl Willis, Dora Decker, and Marie Milston.

The buffet dinner was enjoyed by 27 guests. Floral arrangements decorated the server.

Rev. William F. Sweett is pastor of the church, and Mrs. Maggie Seebree is president of the Pastor's Aid club.

RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP: Willie George Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Turner, 553 West 30th street, and a June graduate of Crispus Attucks High School, has received a $100 scholarship from the Northwestern Civic Club. It was announced this week by Charles Roberts, president of the club. Turner, who wishes to become an art teacher, attended the John Herron Art Institute on a scholarship while in School No. 42 and at Attucks.

Mrs. Turner is secretary of the club, and Mrs. James Forre is treasurer. Mrs. Ray Puryear is chairman of the civic committee.

Among the Clubs

BUSY BEE Sewing Circle will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. Edna Benjamin, 1043 West 29th street. At last week's meeting Mrs. Mildred House was the guest box.

CHATTERBOX met Thursday with Mrs. Adell Bowman, 322 West Ray street. All correspondence should be addressed to Mrs. Bowman.

ENTRE NOUS will meet Friday with Mrs. Mary Colbert, 4016 Rockwood avenue.

GRAND TERRACE met with Mrs. Rosa Toliver. Prizes were won by Mesdames Anna Hughes, Gertrude Whitlow, Ida Moore, Lucy Bennett, and Louise Primus. Mrs. Moore won the guest prize, and Mrs. Whitlow will be next hostess.

JOLLY SIX will meet Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Beulah Crittendon, 725 1/2 North Senate avenue.

J. S. S. W. met Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton. The name was changed to the Optimistic Twelve, and plans were discussed for the annual picnic to be held in July. The last meeting of the season will be with Mr. and Mrs. James W. Smith, 3946 Cornelius avenue, June 23.

LAS BONITAS met last Wednesday with Mrs. Mary Gardner, 626 West 30th street. The members entertained their husbands and friends at a picnic at Mounds Park on Memorial Day.

MYSTIC KREWE met in the home of Mrs. Georgia McElroy. Prizes were won by Mesdames Ruby Coleman, Letitia Dulin, and Susie Dinkens. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Mary Parrott.

RHOER GIRLS will sponsor an initiation party at the home of Miss Shirley Johnson, 646 West 29th street, Saturday morning at 9.

THIRTEEN KEYS met with Mrs. Willa Mae Burris. Prize-winners were Mesdames Mattie Paige, Myrtle Paige, and Susie Hubbard. Next hostess will be Miss Aileen Davis, 1355 Roache street.

T. S. C. GIRLS are making plans for an outdoor social. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Bridie Cole, 2701 Franklin place.

YOUNG MADONNAS met with Mrs. Harriet Brenson, 910 East 27th street, Sunday. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Mary Little, 2907 Ralston street, Sunday.

SCHOOL NO. 23 CLOSING YEAR

Plans were announced early this week for the annual entertainment sponsored by School No. 23 to close its school year. "Yards Beautiful" was the theme of this year's program, planned for Thursday night of this week in Crispus Attucks High School Auditorium, tying up with the school's district beautification.

The program was planned to feature the school band, the primary rhythm band, choral group, from the fifth grade, and dance numbers from the first and fourth grades. A feature of the program was to be a puppet show "Dry Town Clean Up," produced and presented by Mrs. Fannie Shobe, second grade teacher. The script was written by students of Miss Lorabelle Williams, first grade teacher; Miss Ruth Ratcliffe, third grade; and Mrs. Shobe.

Scheduled to climax the night's show were radio-style interviews of families of the winners of the Yards Beautiful contest recently sponsored by the school.

Three gifts reached the school last week, among them a lawn mower presented by Westley Stockinger, one of the yard judges which the P.T.A. will lend at a nominal price to parents.

Also presented were a beautiful illuminated copy of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by J. R. Rosen of Boston, engraver for Harvard University, presented by Mrs. Harold T. West, and a framed copy of the Declaration of Independence presented by the Allison Division of the General Motors Corporation.

STATIONED IN KOREA: Pvt. James E. Barnett, son of Mrs. Anna Barnett, 1841 Miller st., is now stationed in Korea. Inducted into the Army on October 2, 1951, he received his basic training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Pennsylvania. A graduate of Crispus Attucks High School, he also attended the Indiana Business College, and was employed at Fort Benjamin Harrison before entering the Army.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

Memorial Day, a national holiday recognized in all but seven states of the South, has broadened in significance to keep pace with the broadening destinies of the republic. Since losing some of my very close relatives, I have found myself placing flowers on various graves, especially those of my daughter, mother, and the late Rev. George Baltimore.

To my surprise, someone else had visited Rev. Baltimore's grave before me, and my daughter, Ann, and I felt very grateful to know that someone else was thinking of him. We were unable to locate the grave of Mrs. Nancy Baltimore, and regretted we could not place flowers there.

Having to go to Crown Hill just before Decoration Day, I saw one of the loveliest stones I have ever come across, the beautiful marker of Thomas E. J. King, late manager of the King and King Funeral Home. It's impossible to miss!

Well, I guess you are tired of his graveyard talk, but to me those who have passed on have left a lasting influence, whether good or bad. Only their bodies are in the grave; their works live on, and their presence is ever with us.

Funeral services of Eddie Parham were held at Eastern Star Baptist Church last week with Rev. P. C. Owens officiating. Mrs. Florence Jefferson rendered a solo, while a request hymn was sung by Mother Clara Woods. Pallbearers were Miles Peters, Melvin Thomas, Simon Willis, Robert Norman, George Harris, and H. Armous, while members of the Sisters of Help served as flower girls.

Mr. Parham, husband of Mrs. Margaret Parham, 2038 Yandes street, passed in the Veterans' Hospital at Danville, Ill. The King and King Funeral Home was in charge of the remains.

April showers not only brought May flowers, they also brought little Paula R. Scott a baby brother on May 28. Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Scott are proud parents of a fine boy who has been named Paul T. Jr. Baby and mother are doing fine at the home, 2032 Columbia avenue.

Last Sunday Mr. Scott, sitting on the lawn of the King and King Funeral Home, where he is manager, looked like a big boy who had just been given a new toy — what a great, big smile!

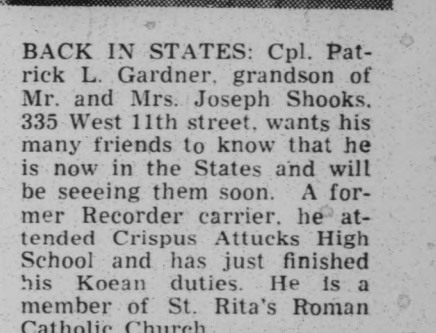

The number was small last Monday night when the Eastside Better Business League held its educational program, due to the big celebration for O. A. Johnson at School No. 26, but the program was a success, nevertheless. The Galilee Usher Board, with Miss Barbara Hollins at the piano furnished music, while Rev. George Tate, William A. Miner, Rev. E. T. Johnson, and Dr. L. B. Meriwether each left food for thought in their very little messages.

John Baker, vice-president, raised an offering of $112.20, to be used to help buy draperies for H.I. Center. Mrs. Josephine Williams was chairman of the program.

The league continues to urge all to clean up, paint up, and keep it up.

Last Sunday afternoon the usher board of New Bethel Baptist Church celebrated its 28th year of service. Mrs. Anna Hamel, program chairman, brought a very fine program, including as participants Mesdames Paula M. White, M. Reed, Verdell Taylor, Bernice Swiney, and Rosetta Bailey, who served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Mathew Downey, Robert White, and J. O. Clark, pastor, also appeared on the program.

Rev. Robert Saunders rendered a solo, while the closing remarks came from the president, Bert Means, who has served for a large number of years. The usher board made the old scribe mother, due to the fact that she is the oldest usher from the time of service.

BACK IN STATES: Cpl. Patrick L. Gardner, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shooks, 335 West 11th street, wants his many friends to know that he is now in the States and will be seeing them soon. A former Recorder carrier, he attended Crispus Attucks High School and has just finished his Korean duties. He is a member of St. Rita's Roman Catholic Church.

Second Christian Laymen Guests For Breakfast

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY
Led by H. B. Dotson, superintendent of the Sunday School and J. H. Hamlin, teacher of the Men's Bible class, fifty men of the Second Christian Church held a breakfast retreat in the church at 2901 North Kenwood avenue, Sunday June 1.
The breakfast of sausages, eggs, chicken livers and coffee was prepared by the men under tutelage of Chef Nero of the Meridian Hills Country Club.
A devotional period has held under the direction of J. C. Brooks, ministerial student at Butler University with O. W. Tanner at the piano.
Participating on the program, which was designed to form a regular Men's League were the Rev. C. H. Webb, Pen Heater, Loui Hill Jr., Hobson Zeigler, Ralph McWilliams, chairman of the board and the Rev. R. H. Peoples, pastor of the church.
Movies were made of the event and the group decided to send a delegation of the Disciples Laymen's Retreat in Memphis, June 31.

Equal Schools Issue Causes Furore in Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Rep. John L. McMillan (D., S. C.) introduced a bill last week authorizing $5,000,000 for the improvement of Negro schools in the District of Columbia.

The proposed funds are to be distributed among five schools in the District. One new junior high school, with a pupil capacity of 1,100 is to be constructed at the cost of $2,500,000. An addition is to be made to another junior high school at the cost of $300,000. The completion of the fourth floor of another junior high school is authorized at the cost of $200,000. The construction of two new elementary schools is proposed at the cost of $1,000,000 each.

The school bill, which got started after the board of education turned down a proposal to transfer a white school for use by Negro pupils, aroused controversy even before it was introduced.

The South Carolina Democrat introduced the bill at the request of C. Melvin Sharpe, president of the District school board after a conference with School Supt. Hobart M. Corning.

District Commissioner F. Joseph Donohue asserted that Sharpe's action was "illegal" and a violation of the statutes which prohibit any officer or employee of any department from requesting an appropriation from congress.

The proposal was condemned by the District Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In a letter to the house District committee, the NAACP said the proposal is an "expenditure of funds designed to duplicate space already existing in the schools which should be made available to all the children in the District of Columbia without reference to race, creed or color."

Truman Asked

line of distinction between the offense committed by Gilbert and that of what he termed "stay down" strikers (pilots).

The NAACP special counsel previously had written to President Truman seeking clemency for Gilbert through reduction of his sentence to the time already served, and an opportunity for his re-enlistment in the Army.

Gen. Vaughn, in his answer to Marshall in response to Marshall's letter to the President, attempted to distinguish between the two situations.

As volunteers, the Air Force men had merely "refused," the general pointed out, "to do so much thing which no man is forced to do." On the other hand, he asserted, Lt. Gilbert "was guilty of misbehavior before the enemy, one of the most serious offenses possible for a military man."

"He does not seem to have been overcome by psychological inability to act as he was ordered, but rather to have reasoned that the dangerous situation which he was ordered to enter might leave Mrs. Gilbert a widow."

Marshall Makes Query
In his reply to Gen. Vaughn, Marshall asked:

"Is it not true that once they volunteer and enter the Air Corps, they have the same responsibility to carry out orders as any other military men. . . . Are they not subject to the same discipline as everyone else in the service?"

Marshall also called the general's attention to the testimony of medical experts as to Gilbert's mental responsibility at the time of the offense. In recognition of this testimony, the board of review of the adjutant general's office found the record in Lt. Gilbert's case insufficient to sustain the conviction. The board, however, was overruled by the Judicial Council.

Marshall compared the conduct of Gens. Dodd and Colson to that of Gilbert. He said:

"In the recent affair on Kojie, Generals Dodd and Colson certainly misconducted themselves in the physical presence of thousands of enemy and deliberately gave to the enemy the written statement which has disgraced our government. Their punishment—demotion from brigadier general to colonel."

He expressed doubt that Lt. Gilbert's action did "as much harm to the Korean War effort as was done by Generals Dodd and Colson."

Meanwhile, other noted persons have urged clemency for Gilbert. They include Dr. J. M. Tinsley, president of Virginia State conference of NAACP branches, and the Glosier B. Current, director of branches of the NAACP.

Dr. Tinsley has sent a letter to the White House in behalf of Gilbert, and Current has urged all NAACP branches to send letters to the President asking for the immediate release of Gilbert.

Rev. C. W. Poole Born In His Church Area

Marital Plans

REV. C. W. POOLE

With an erectness of figure which belies his 72 years, Rev. Charles W. C. Poole has behind him a life of devoted work in the ministry and before him more years of work and enjoying the well-deserved esteem of his fellow ministers and laymen.

The well-thought-of pastor of Garfield Baptist Church at Minnesota and Gola streets has been in the ministry 41 years, and has been a pastor for 39 years.

During that time he has served as pastor of his present church for two separate terms, the last time having already extended over 22 years, and was an organizer of the Eastern Star Baptist Church. A native of Indianapolis, Charles Poole was born to old settlers coming here from Kentucky, his father having been born in slavery. He was born on Olive and Prospect streets, and now lives at 3309 Prospect street.

A product of local schools, he was trained in theology under Rev. Kimball Warren and Rev. Charles W. Lewis. And in turn, he has himself aided and abetted a number of young ministers, helping to guide them into the right paths as true men of God. He has ordained two ministers.

In addition, during his long ministry he has baptized over 400 converts, married over 100 couples, and officiated at over 200 funerals. He has been instrumental in helping to build up about six local churches.

Meanwhile he has been busy building up his own church, which, being in a not-too-heavily populated neighborhood, has a rather small, but enthusiastic congregation of around 300.

Plans Community Service
Included in the pastor's plans for extensive remodeling of the present church is the addition next year of a pastor's study and choir room. Plans are also being made to build a community house next to the church.

The community house idea is perhaps partially a result of Rev. Poole's deep civic and community interest, which he has proved by his encouragement of a civic organization, the Southside Civic League, headed by Smith Cheatham, and his equally deep, sincere interest in young people and their problems.

In line with his interest in others, Rev. Poole says, "Our people would be at a great loss if it weren't for the church and the ministry," pointing out the extensive work his own missionary society has done in aiding the needy and poor. In addition to the pastoral duty of visiting the sick and needy, Rev. Poole also feels a deep sense of duty in giving counsel to those in trouble.

The church, realizing the important role of recreation in character building, was a vigorous protagonist for the new Bethel Park, a 15-acre tract which helps meet the recreational needs of the area.

Just as the neighborhood surrounding Garfield Baptist Church reflects the work and earnestness of the church, so the church is a reflection of the true Christianity of its leader.

The tall septuagenarian (he stands 6 feet, 1 inch) has a justifiable pride in the church and the church's ministry. He believes in people, and, considerate at all times of others, he believes in team work, in the purpose and mission of the church.

With the constant encouragement of his wife, Mattie, Rev. Poole has an enviable record of executive positions. For three years he was president of the Central District Sunday School Convention, for four years assistant secretary of the Indiana State Baptist Association, and was for two years second vice-moderator of the same group.

For a number of years he has headed a firm of interior decorators.

John McKay

Funeral services for John E. McKay, age 45, 741 Colton street, were held Tuesday, June 3, in the Stuart Mortuary. The burial was in New Crown cemetery. He died in his home Friday, May 30.

He was a lifelong resident here. He was a veteran of World War II and had been employed by the Cornelius Printing Co.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Ethel Anderson.

to-be majored in mathematics. Students at a provincial Friends (Quaker) college, they were scheduled to be married at a Friends (Quaker) meeting.

The announcement of their engagement, made public in April, shocked the local staid provincial community and made national news of a sort.

McAllister Leaves Campus
McAllister, at the time of the announcement of the engagement, agreed to leave the campus as a result of the announcement of the position or stand of the college administration on the plans of the young couple.

McAllister completed his work for his degree at home. But Miss Cunningham remained on the campus. He returned here Monday for the commencement program.

The parents of both of the principals in the interracial romance attended together a president's reception here this week, and the couple strolled across the campus hand in hand after the exercises.

Thomas E. Jones, Earlham president and former president of Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., one of the nation's most outstanding Negro schools, discouraged the marriage. He said the school, in spite of its opposition to segregation on the campus does not favor interracial marriages.

Such marriages "present extra problems which may be almost insurmountable in the civilization of today," the former president of a famous Negro university is reported as saying.

George Brooks

Funeral services for George Brooks, age 57, 2710 Manlove street were held in the New Mission Baptist church Wednesday, June 4. The burial was in New Crown cemetery. He died in a local nursing home Saturday, May 31.

He was a native of Christian County Ky. and had lived here 35 years. He was a member of the New Mission church and a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include a son, Donald Brooks; a daughter, Miss Virginia Brooks; four brothers, Walter and Robert Brooks, city; Frank Brooks, Evansville, and Tom Brooks, Henderson, Ky.; three sisters, Mrs. Henrietta Harrison and Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, city, and Mrs. Sude Chaney, Evansville and other relatives.

owner of two pieces of property—the one in which the tragedy occurred and another at 748-50 W. Walnut street—had an insurance policy on which Mrs. Beason was the beneficiary.

At a hearing before Judge Philip L. Bayt in Municipal Court Room 3 on Saturday, Beason was re-slated on a charge of murder and Mrs. Beason, notwithstanding her story of the rape attempt, was held on a pre-murder charge.

They were scheduled to appear before Judge Bayt on June 6 for a formal binding over to the grand jury.

Niece Report Denied
The published report that Mrs. Beason was a niece of the murdered man was hotly denied by his sister, Mrs. Ethel Anderson, 1031 Colton.

Investigators heard rumors that Mrs. Beason had at one time kept company with McKay, and that the rape story was therefore ridiculous.

Lost a Leg

He served three years in the Army during World War II, attaining the rank of sergeant. About a year ago he lost a leg in an accident, relatives said, but otherwise was in good physical condition and always able to give a good account of himself in a physical encounter.

They surmised that Beason, a much smaller man, would have been no match for McKay with or without an axe, if McKay was awake.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Stuart Mortuary, with burial in New Crown.

Surviving besides the sister, Mrs. Anderson, are two aunts, Mrs. Cora Townsend and Mrs. Ollie Bluiett; an uncle, Edward McKay, all of this city.

Vegetables, Eggs, Chickens Plentiful, Best Food Buys

Spring vegetables, eggs, and chickens are being featured in grocery stores in most areas.

You should also still be able to find plenty of oranges and grapefruit, with rhubarb and strawberries also beginning to appear on fruit counters in some areas. Radishes, asparagus, peppers, and spinach are also in good supply.

Poultry Specifications

The Department of Agriculture has established the following specifications for poultry:

Fryers or broilers are young, tender-meated chickens marketed when they are under 16 weeks old. Roasters are tender-meated chickens marketed under 8 months old.

Hens, stewing chicken, or fowl are less tender and are usually 10 or more months old.

Turkeys are classed in the same manner, with fryers less than 16 weeks old; young tom or hen turkeys under 8 months old; and tom or hen turkeys 10 months old or over.

Housekeeping Tips

All irons should be washed occasionally with soap and water and then rewaxed. You may also clean your iron with a dry cleaning fluid or by rubbing the sole plate, when hot, over dry salt on a sheet of paper or, if cool, scouring it lightly with very fine steel wool. Never use a knife or sharp tool in cleaning an iron.

You can keep small rugs or mats from skidding on waxed floors by sewing a rubber ring, such as those used on canning jars, in each corner. To help prevent rumpling of a rug, apply a coat of shellac, thinned with half as much denatured alcohol, to the bottom of the rug and then let it dry. The rug should be cleaned first on both sides.

Food Hints

Don't overlook beef cuts graded "U. S. Commercial." If carefully prepared they can be made into satisfactory and economical meat dishes. Remember that most commercial-grade cuts require cooking with moist heat to make them tender and to develop the rich, full beef flavor.

When cooking vegetables save the liquids. These liquids and also the liquids from canned vegetables contain valuable vitamins and iron. Use leftover liquids to flavor soups and gravies.

THIEVES CRACK CHURCH SAFE: Shown above, Chris Briscoe, custodian of Mt. Paran Baptist church, is examining a safe in the church which thieves attempted to loot after midnight last Sunday. He found the combination knocked off the safe when he reported for his duties Monday morning. Rev. C. Henry Bell, pastor of the church, stated that the safe was used only to keep church records. The thieves did not gain entry into the safe after the combination was knocked off and it was thought they were frightened away. They gained entry into the church by breaking a basement window.

ELMER HENDERSON, Washington, D. C., executive director of the American Council on Human Rights, reporting on a recent visit to Europe said the people of Europe are in a furor about a pamphlet that has been prepared by a group of world scientific leaders under sponsorship of the UNESCO (United Nations committee on education and science) which shows the fallacy of racial superiority, that has been held up by the U. S. State Department.

Mr. Henderson said the U. S. State Department has asked that the UNESCO pamphlet not be issued because it goes too far in demanding complete racial integration and an end of the myth of racial superiority.

Because of this attitude on the part of the State Department, there have been some resignations by some key people in the foreign service, Mr. Henderson reported.

In all the five countries he visited, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland and England, he reported the prestige of the U. S. is suffering considerably because of its policy of racial segregation and prejudice. He said there is a tremendous amount of propaganda, throughout Europe on racial conditions in the U. S. and although the State Department is trying to counteract it in various ways, the methods so far are having little effect.

We submit that this longstanding myth of innately superior and inferior racial groups may not long endure against honor, truth and manhood in our small world of today and tomorrow. It is not (the myth) among "things that endure"; we leave it with the poet who said: "Honor and truth and manhood—These are the things that stand, Though the sneer and jibe of the cynic tribe Are loud through the width of the land But a lie, whatever the guise it wears, Is as life as it was of yore, And a truth that has lasted a million years Is good for a million more." —Olson

DR. HARRY V. RICHARDSON, Atlanta, Ga., president of Gammon Theological Seminary delivered a sermon in Detroit last October entitled "Communion Meditation." It is included in the edition of "Test Sermons" published in 1952 by McMillan Company, New York.

The fifty-two sermons in the present volume were selected from several thousand that were considered, Dr. G. Paul Butler edited the volume.

Dr. Richardson's sermon delivered on World-Wide Communion Sunday is a brief but intensive consideration of both the spiritual and the social implications of the "Lord's Supper."

Dr. Richardson declared, "We have no right to partake of the Holy Communion unless we believe in human brotherhood and are consciously committed to achieve it."

Further he observed, "The Holy Communion is one element that is common to Christian churches of all faiths and all lands, binding the members together in a triumphant fellowship that reaches around the world. Our task as Christians is to become conscious of the fellowship and to utilize its potential power."

DR. KENNETH B. CLARK, New York, associate professor of psychology of the College of the City of New York speaking at the 79th annual meeting of the National Conference of Social Work in Chicago recently, observed that we cannot be complacent until racial segregation is not only denied but destroyed.

Further Dr. Clark said, "The myth of racism can be so manipulated as to result in a most profound human tragedy. The recent intensification of racism by the African government in South Africa is another example of the inhumanity inherent in the theory and practices of racism. It man has the capacity to learn from past experiences, some way will be found to prevent the repetition in South Africa of widespread human chaos. When we observe the stark tragedy of racism elsewhere, we cannot be complacent about our native varieties of this destructive myth."

In a striking challenge Dr. Clark said, "Americans insist that their form of democracy is superior to the totalitarian enslavement which Russia has to offer. . . It is upon the basis of America's ability to convince the people of the world of the truth of this, that it can expect to be successful in this struggle. If this cannot be done, the Soviet ideology can be countered only by military force, which can only destroy both the victor and the vanquished."

Dear Sir: Your friends, Edward Zebulon Breeze and Ling Foo, during their last weekly visit and chat, discussed the foreign policy of our nation according to their understanding of "fact and fancy" in world news. "EASY BREEZE" said, "There is a great deal of talk about the unity of all the forces of the 'free world' for peace and defense against aggression. But in regard to aggression or unity within the 'orbit of the free world,' the nations of Europe, actually appear to stand today on the same footing they stood on in the middle of the 18th Century."

"MR. FOOLIN" concluded, "We behold a sorry spectacle, for in the midst of allegations of a merger of certain economic interests of France and Germany, to offset aggression from the East and following three wars highly destructive to both nations, some of the people East of the Rhine are again fanning the dormant embers of world wrath with a clamor 'Deutschland Uber Alles.'"

Very truly yours,

IND. STATE MEDICAL ASSN.
HOLDS ANNUAL MEET IN GARY

GARY — The 29th annual session of the Indiana State Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association were held here May 21-22. The organization of Negro physicians, dentists and pharmacists is affiliated with the National Medical Association, the National Dental Association and the National Association of Pharmacists.

The sessions were largely attended by physicians from East Chicago, Michigan City, South Bend, Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Evansville and local physicians.

Speakers for the various sessions included Dr. T. C. Sherrod, assistant professor in the School of Pharmacy, University of Illinois; Roy Thompson, Armour Laboratories; Dr. Andrew Jordan, Dept. of Periodontology, Northwestern University; Dr. J. Pilot, director of the Dept. of Pathology and Laboratory at St. Margaret hospital, Hammond and St. Catherine hospital, East Chicago and Dr. F. E. Miller.

Others included Dr. E. Hasbrouck, Director of Surgery, Provident hospital and instructor in surgery, Chicago Medical school; Dr. B. Braun, asst. dept. of X-ray at St. Catherine hospital, East Chicago and Dr. J. Spaulding, president of Roosevelt College, Chicago.

A mixed audience of more than 200 delegates and guests heard Dr. Spaulding speaking during the banquet held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Gary.

Officers elected and installed by Attorney Milo Murray, during the convention, were: Dr. E. L. C. Bromes, East Chicago, president; W. Matthews, R. Ph. Gary, vice president; Dr. D. Bethea, Hammond, secretary and H. Stoner, R. Ph. Indianapolis, treasurer. The next convention will be held again in Gary.

KKK Posts Bond
In Flogging of
N. C. Weman

WHITEVILLE, N. C. (ANP) — Thomas L. Hamilton, the former grand dragon who promoted himself to Imperial Wizard after the Klan invaded this county last year, last week posted bond in connection with the flogging of a white man and a Negro woman in Columbus county.

He is scheduled to appear in Recorder's court here on June 19 for preliminary hearing on charges of conspiracy to assault.

The charges grew out of the flogging of Mrs. Evergreen Flowers, a colored woman of Chadbourn, and a white automobile mechanic Woodrow Johnson.

Mrs. Flowers was dragged from her home on the night of Jan. 18, 1951. She was beaten and her clothes were torn off. She ran, but was caught, whipped again and felled by a gun butt. And her husband—not she—was the intended Klan victim.

Less than 25 persons were on hand to view Hamilton as he visited the courthouse to post bond

Bishop Walls Replies To Mrs. Edith Sampson

CHICAGO (ANP)—Bishop W. J. Walls of Chicago last week said that the appearance of Paul Robeson at the ninth session of the 34th General Conference of the AME Zion church was not designed to embarrass Mrs. Edith Sampson, former representative of the State Department in Europe.

Bishop Walls presented his version of the incident in answer to a statement issued by Mrs. Sampson in which she blasted him for allowing Robeson to appear on the same night as she.

Bishop Walls' statement implied that he thought that Mrs. Sampson was giving the incident characteristics which it did not warrant and that as far as he was concerned it was closed.

Bishop Expresses Surprise
Bishop Walls expressed surprise that Mrs. Sampson took the attitude that she did over the incident. He said that this country has always had persons of different political beliefs, but that it had not prevented them from entering the same house together.

"I am at a loss to know why Mrs. Edith Sampson insists on saying she was not on a program with Paul Robeson. The program did not have Robeson's name in the print. The program was completed with her speech and she and all the platform guests were removed from the platform."

"Then as a recreation skit, Harriet Tubman and Freedom in the AME Zion church was given by a group, Paul Robeson being one of six others who came on to give the delegation and public some idea of where our members stood in the great struggle for race freedom."

Robeson AMEZ Members
"It was appropriate to have Robeson sing Tubman and Negro melodies of faith since his father was spirited to freedom by the underground railroad by Harriet Tubman and Paul, himself, is a member of the AME Zion church in which his father was a minister and his brother is at present a pastor."

"Neither Mrs. Sampson nor Mrs. Ruth Whaley were made to confront the players."

Bishop Walls' explanation of why Robeson's name was not on the printed program was in answer to a statement by Mrs. Sampson in which she said that she would not have appeared if she had known Robeson would appear on the same program with her.

Bishop Walls also said that the absence of Robeson's name was not because of an attempt to fool Mrs. Sampson.

Mrs. Sampson said that her first knowledge of the noted singer's appearance was after she arrived at the conference. She and Mrs. Whaley were the only ones who remained seated when a vote was taken on Robeson's passport.

VA. MINISTER, MISSIONARY IN CHINA, RETURNS AMERICA

By GLADYS P. GRAHAM
NEW YORK (ANP) — The first Negro missionary in China is back home. The Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. sent its first Negro missionary, the Rev. Darius L. Swann, a native of Amelia, Va., to teach in the University of Nanking and to be associated with the Church of Christ in China.

Rev. Swann, a graduate of Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, N. C., as well as a product of its seminary, arrived in China just in time three years ago to see the country come under the control of the Communists. His dark skin saved him the fate of some of his Nordic associates, for Asia is on the move for freedom.

Rev. Swann took special course at Columbia University in the teaching of English to foreign students. In an interview he said he was inspired and stimulated by Dean Arthur George of the seminary at Johnson C. Smith to go on the foreign mission field.

Served as English Dept. Head
A few months after the Negro minister's arrival in Nanking, he was asked to be the head of the foreign language department of the University of Nanking until the return of the Chinese chairman who was on leave. Here, Rev. Swann said, he carried a heavy academic schedule but still found time for Bible class work, preaching, serving as English secretary of the University committee on religion, running in track meets, and contributing in many ways to community life.

Rev. Swann's first impression on arrival in China was that it was a rare privilege to be in China. "Few persons would understand what it means to be a Negro in the Far East where one senses a tremendous surge of life among peoples, awakening out of a long night's sleep and rising to claim the nation's promise of freedom and independence," he said.

"None will deny the sincerity of the determined struggle of the Chinese for self-realization and a better way of life even though they have not in every case been able to translate their desire into a clear ideal."

Rev. Swann was greatly impressed with the warmth and friendly spirit he met at the University of Nanking. Yet in the streets outside of the campus, he said, he was puzzled to meet with unkindly remarks and uncompromising epithets.

He said: "When I thought of all that China had suffered at the hands of foreigners who had allegedly come to help them, their attitude is not hard to understand. Ironically, it was my equality with all other foreigners that was being recognized and my dark skin which drew attention to me."

One of the important challenges a mission workers, he said, is to establish more vital relationships with persons who live around one. He commented:

"The bright light of reexamination forcing its rays into one's thinking and living stresses the import of the religionist to reconsider his tasks in administering Christianity at home or abroad."

Results in Government Wanted
Speaking of the conditions which allowed the Communists to gain strength, Rev. Swann stressed such factors as the poverty of the people, inflation, and a new currency which wasn't even stabilized, the confusion of the people and the struggle between government bodies for domination. The geographical rather than an alphabetical language in which so much must be memorized before reading and writing comes into play are other deterrents among the masses, he observed. Rev. Swann felt that foreign mission fields offer a great opportunity for the Negro minister and scholar. The Chinese are proud of their freedom from racial prejudice. Today, because of the emphasis of government propaganda, he said, there is a new awareness of racial wrongs in America and a deep sympathy for colored Americans.

"Through it all, he said, it was a thrilling experience to see this ancient land in the throes of revolution and to witness the social experiment taking place in a country of immense problems. It was good to have gone."

Rev. Swann will return to a new foreign mission field this year taking with him his bride, the former Vera Poe of Cheraw, S. C. She also is a graduate of Johnson C. Smith.

EVANSVILLE MAN HELD IN QUARREL, FATAL STABBING
EVANSVILLE — William B. Cox was held by local police this week in connection with the fatal stabbing of 55-year-old Elijah Kinchlow, who died Saturday in the Baptist hospital as result of a stab wound inflicted the preceding day.

Cox, 38, a veteran of World War I, is survived by a foster daughter, Mrs. Cleora Mills; two sisters, the Misses Mary and Anna Kinchlow; three brothers, Don, John, and Herman, and two grandchildren.

Two noted Negroes will be among the principal speakers at Wittenberg college here June 16-25. They are Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the Trusteeship Division of the United Nations, and Dr. Channing H. Tobias, director of the Phelps-Stokes fund.

More than 300 delegates are expected to attend the conference which probably will be the most representative gathering on African affairs held in North America during the past 10 years. The assembly will bring together representatives of at least five African governments, leaders of 30 major Protestant denominations, and delegates from the United Nations and the U. S. State Department.

Other outstanding persons who will address the meeting include: Dr. John A. Reuling, Boston, secretary for Africa and Latin America, foreign missions board of the Congregation Christian churches; Pierre Riekman, former governor general of the Belgian Congo; Theodore Monod, director of the Institut Francais de l'Afrique Noire, Dakar, French West Africa, and Z. K. Mathews, Fort Hare Native College, Union of South Africa.

MD. GOVERNOR ON PROGRAM AT INDIANA CENTRAL COLLEGE

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of the state of Maryland will deliver the commencement address at Indiana Central College Sunday, June 8, at 5 p.m. He will speak on the front lawn of the campus.

Seven of the 73 graduates of this year's class will be: Rosemary Brown, Rose Marie Carpenter, Augustus Higgins, Walter Clay Johnson, Charlene Yvonne Mills, Pearly Mae Montgomery, and Richard A. Warren.

Miss Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown, 3400 Carson Avenue, will receive the B.S. in Education degree with a major in elementary education. Vice-president of the Future Teachers of America, Miss Brown plans a teaching career.

Miss Carpenter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carpenter, 749 West 32nd Street. She will also receive a B.S. in Education degree. A business major, Miss Carpenter was active in I. A. Y., (girls service organization), Future Teachers of America, and the Business Club. Her name also appears on the Honor Roll.

Augustus Higgins, son of Mrs. Lettie Higgins, 823 West 30th Street, completed his work in January and is now serving in the armed forces. He has earned his B.S. in Education.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, 901 Locke Street, are the parents of Walter Clay Johnson. He will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Also receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree will be Richard A. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Warren, 627 Locke Street, Apt. 326. He majored in social studies and tentatively plans to attend graduate school this fall. He is active in Pan Linguist (foreign language club), Booster Club, treasurer of the Student Christian Association, and historian in the Future

Mrs. Roosevelt
To Speak for UNFC
Rally in New York

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (ANP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, member of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights will speak at Cornerstone Baptist church, June 11, at the closing mass rally of the Brooklyn campaign organization for the United Negro College Fund, Inc.

Miss Dorothy Maynor, internationally acclaimed soprano, has been invited to be a soloist at the meeting. Monte Irvin, New York Giants' hero of last year's world series, also has been invited to the fund raising effort for the benefit of 32 private accredited Negro colleges.

"NAPTOWN NONSENSE"

Municipal Judge Phillip L. Bayt is to be commended for his forthright decision throwing out a case in which a Negro man and white woman were jailed for conversing together on a park bench.

"It is no crime for persons of opposite sexes and different races to associate in public in a decent and respectable manner," ex-Mayor Bayt observed.

"The officers were absolutely wrong in making these arrests, regardless of other circumstances. . . I want the officers to respect the rights of individuals to privacy and immunity from unlawful interference."

Judge Bayt is not alone in this last-named desire, but the question is how to achieve it. Over a period of years, various chiefs of police have publicly denied the existence of an "unwritten law" of the department which forbids the mingling of the races. And over the same period of years, police officers have gone right on arresting or harassing citizens whom they believed to be of different colors, including city councilmen, court referees, teachers, social workers and what have you.

Some years ago the local NAACP, in its play "Naptown Nonsense," satirized this color allergy of the Indianapolis gendarmes. But events have demonstrated that no satire could be so funny — if you call it funny! — as the things that actually happen here.

For instance, the couple arrested last week were at first charged with violation of the notorious "Explain Yourself Law." When it was pointed out that this ordinance had been declared unconstitutional, the charge was shifted to "state vagrancy," whatever that may be. We presume it is the newest edition of the old "city vagrancy" ordinance, which held sway until it was declared unconstitutional and then was replaced by the "explain yourself" act.

The continuation of this farce, in which any old charge is hung on citizens who have crossed the "race curtain," shows that the local police either have been following a well-understood policy or at the very least have not been instructed against it. Gordon Davis, attorney for the young woman in last week's case, said the arrests were made "because the officers are subject to fits when they see a mixed couple acting as decent, respectable citizens of this country."

It is easy to see how such antics by the police not only work hardship on innocent citizens, but bring the entire law-enforcement machinery into disrepute and contempt. We believe that Judge Bayt may have had this in mind when he issued his stern and clear order to desist. Judge Bayt has proclaimed the end of this "Naptown nonsense," and it is up to the Police Department to conform.

FALL CREEK AND FEDERAL FUNDS

We see where the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce has risen in righteous indignation against a sordid attempt in Congress to cram some filthy Federal Government money down the throat of our innocent city.

Honest Naptowners must applaud this latest death-defying move to uphold States' Rights and the Indianapolis Way of Life.

The funds are proposed to be used, as we understand it, to pay for a bridge across Fall Creek at Indiana Avenue and to improve the surrounding creek-bank area for flood prevention.

As for the bridge, the city now appears to be building it after only about 10 years of fooling around. Another hundred years and we might construct a boulevard — if the right people were involved.

The use of Federal funds for this work might endanger the safety and very lives of persons using the bridge. It is well known that workmen are more careless when paid by the Federal government.

"Indianapolis is fully able to provide this improvement without outside assistance," declares the Chamber. That's the stuff! Where is this Federal country, anyway?

PRISON HORRORS IN DIXIELAND CROPS UP AGAIN

A Philadelphia man fighting to keep from being returned to a Georgia chain gang, from which he escaped three times, recently told a tale of horror and privation in a hushed courtroom of the City of Brotherly Love.

The testimony of the former Georgia chain gang victim, convicted of murder in a self-defense slaying, was sustained by another former chain gang member. And several others are scheduled to appear in court and testify as to the horrors cited by the defendant in the particular case, involving his extradition or return to the Georgia chain gang.

The defendant in the case alleges that in April 1937, he was attacked with a knife by a man at Macon, Ga. He charges that during the scuffle for the knife, the other man was fatally stabbed. The Philadelphia man was advised to plead guilty and receive a five-year sentence. He did so, but was immediately taken to a chain gang camp in Blakely County, Ga., having received a life sentence in prison.

In the Philadelphia court room recently he told of how he was shackled with a ball and chain and forced thus to work. He told of being placed on the "stretcher," similar to the horrible punishment of prisoners of the Middle Ages. He was placed in a dungeon-like "hotbox" in which he could not stand up, with no ventilation, and without proper food.

He charged that he was shackled to a stake in the hot sun, with his face turned to the sky; molasses poured on his face and that ants, bees and other insects crawled all over his face, body and into his ears and nose.

He charged that during this ordeal the warden's small son and his playmates urinated in his face. And the youngsters threw dirt on the bites left by the insects. The other chain gang escapee age 76 (defendant's witness) testified about how he had been lashed and confined in a "sweatbox" for 14 days. The box, kept inside an iron cage, was 6 feet by 12, with no light or ventilation.

The extradition case was continued in court and the defense counsel proposed to produce other former prisoners of the chain gang "school" to relate the horrors of prison life in Dixieland. The defendant in this "Philadelphia Story" was nabbed by the FBI, charged with violating the Federal Felon Act. But there is yet another angle to the horrors of prison life in Dixieland.

During the last three or four decades some striking anomalies on crime and punishment have come out of the Southland, amounting to "involuntary servitude, with false or undue conviction" for petty crimes. Farmers or great plantation owners have bailed the prisoners out of jail. They work to pay their fines, as long as the "boss" may see fit to work them, weeks, months and years.

Among the rebellious type, some are returned to the horrors of prison life; some escape the life of involuntary servitude (outside the prison walls) and tell the story, as of yesterday and today. The truth of this involuntary servitude, or medieval torture in Dixie prisons, is a mockery of our Christian culture and democratic way of life, and it can hardly be surpassed by anything taking place beyond the "Iron Curtain" of the Communist nations of Europe and Asia.

DE-SEGREGATING NEW JERSEY SCHOOLS (III)

Two hundred twenty-nine colored pupils were transferred from Junior High School Number 5 to Junior High Schools 1, 2, 3 and 4 — 172 white pupils who formerly went to Schools 1 and 3 being sent to School 5 at the same time. During the trial year 1945, 103 white elementary pupils were transferred to School 5 from Grant, Jefferson, McKinley, Monument and Parker Schools.

On Feb. 26, 1946, Superintendent Loser called a meeting of all school executives and teachers. Later every teacher got his assignment by mail. He called each teacher — white or colored — to be sent to or from School 5 into his office for a personal conference.

In September, 1946, 11 more Negro teachers were sent from School 5 to other schools. Of the 26 white teachers in School 5 at that time, 18 were from 10 different Trenton schools, to form nearby Hamilton Township, three were beginners, and there were three whose former teaching districts Mrs. Higgs was unable to learn. When integration went definitely into effect in the fall of 1946 P. J. Hill, a colored man, was principal. He holds that position now, the vice-principal then and at present being a white woman. There are 26 white and 16 colored teachers at School 5, two of the white teachers being full-time substitute teachers.

The ablest colored teachers were chosen for formerly all-white schools. The six who were sent to different schools and districts for the year 1945-1946 were expected to prove that the program is workable, serving as missionaries in the cause of integration. They did a good job. As to result of their successful pioneering it was easy to integrate many more a year later and thereafter. Parents, teachers and children accept them — largely because of their culture, scholarship, efficiency and conscientiousness.

Problems Encountered
SOME PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED AND HOW THEY WERE HANDLED may engage the attention of a few persons who may see this. Principal Hill thinks his worst headache was to unify his teachers. A white School 5 teacher felt her most puzzling worry was overcoming the resentment of some of her Negro pupils and their parents. Abrupt uprooting of pupils and teachers resulted in emotional strain on the part of nearly everybody. White pupils did not like attending a former all-Negro school. A few white parents had the same objection. Some white teachers opposed being transferred involuntarily to the once Negro school. A small number of racially prejudiced pupils, parents and teachers — both white and colored — kept everyone jumpy for quite a while.

Some seemed aghast at the unusualness of the integration, many white pupils and teachers disliking to work under a Negro principal. A few Negro parents and teachers doubted that integration would be a good thing. Many colored children and parents objected to white teachers.

Pupil Rowdiness
Both white and colored pupils caused annoying behavior problems, such as rowdiness, vandalism, noisiness, interracial fights (one serious), arguments, threatening, bullying attitude of a small number of Negro boys toward white teachers (no serious incident), and colored children refusing to obey or cooperate with white teachers. Bad white and Negro children banded together in making trouble.

Some Southern white parents showed their prejudice by criticizing Negro teachers. A small number of white parents withdrew their children from schools where there were colored pupils or teachers, sending them to private schools.

There were tension and bad feeling among a limited number of white and colored teachers in the same building. Both sides showed coldness and even open uncouthness. A few white teachers, plainly showing their contempt for the Negro principal, defied his authority. They punished young Negro children unjustly. Cooperating teachers did much to change such attitude.

to observe the effectiveness of the Point 4 program. He also was interested in learning more about Africa's recent political advancement, and in learning more about Negro soldiers in the European command and the effect these segregated troops are having on American foreign policy.

The ACHR leader said Negro soldiers in the European command have been ambassadors of good will for America, in spite of the fact that they have operated in segregated units.

The attitude of the Negro soldiers, their friendliness and helpfulness in dealing with people of other nations have counteracted much ill feeling toward this country, he said.

An order to abolish segregation in the Armed Forces in Europe was issued some time ago, according to Henderson, but the army has refused to give publicity to it. He observed, however, that the order is being put into effect fairly rapidly. When it is carried out to its fullest extent, it will be a step toward creating better public relations between France and the U. S. A., he said.

Verses COMPLAINT

By EDNA SHANS BAILEY

O love how bright your little day did seem;
How full of joy your happy dream.
But like a leaf upon a stream
It did not stay
It passed away
Now darkness fills my day.
Fate takes all I claim for mine;
And so, alone, I sit and pine.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

RACE HATRED IS A TWO-WAY STREET

When we think of race hatred in America, we usually think of the antipathy shown by the American white man for those of a high degree of visibility such as the American Negro, the American Indian or Orientals.

But a true appraisal of the race situation in the United States will reveal that the white man's hatred is reciprocated to a large extent by the affected minorities.

Among Negroes of all levels of education and all economic strata there is a high degree of endemic hatred for the white man. This hatred takes various forms in different individuals. Many Negroes hate whites in general while exempting a few whites from this general hatred, while others have an abiding hatred for all whites and most of the crimes of Negroes against whites have their genesis in this categorical hatred.

Nor is this hate business confined to educational levels or occupational groups. This columnist has found among the fawning servitors of the white man some of the deepest hatred for the American "master race." And he has found it also among Negroes who work in interracial groups. Even some "Uncle Toms" really hate the racial group whose chestnuts they pull out of the fire!

Hatred on Increase
And the tragic truth about all this hatred is the fact that it is on the increase rather than the decline. This fact is attributed to the crystallization of segregation, and to the fact that to a large extent management has replaced personal ownership of business and industry, and labor-saving devices have cut down the use of domestic labor. A half-century ago almost every Negro had some white man whom he knew well and who knew him well and whom he saw practically every day. While those Negroes may not have liked their lots and while they may have disliked white people as a whole, as often as not they had a type of affection for the white man whom they saw daily.

The 50 years of rigid segregation following the turn of the century, and the passing of personalized business and industry, created a situation in which millions of Negroes could live and die and never come to know a white man as a person. They knew white men only as the hiring boss, the tough bill collector, the police officer and the machine-like clerk in the neighborhood chain store.

Negro professional men and Negro business people, forced to rely almost solely upon Negroes for their livelihood and having only a customer's relation with the white man, rarely developed any affection for or real acquaintance with the white man. In addition many of these developed hatreds because of the doors of opportunity closed to them solely on account of their race.

Professional Bars
The Negro physician who was denied access to hospitals and medical schools because of color, had a tendency (quite naturally) to resent the whites who maintained such bars, and the Negro teacher who was forced to accept lower pay and inferior equipment and be bossed by white men who were less well prepared than he tended to take a dim view of the white teacher and to hate the whole white race.

The Negro laborer who was prevented from advancing in industry while less capable whites were advanced, was apt to develop no affection for his white fellow workers.

And Negroes of all classes seeing themselves forced to live in run-down ghettos, send their children to segregated schools, worship in segregated churches and fight for their country in segregated units, would naturally tend to develop deep resentments against the perpetrators of these crimes against humanity.

After generations of such discriminations, it has become natural and normal for at least 99 percent of Negroes to hate white supremacy and the group that maintains it. This columnist has talked to Negroes who often come in contact with whites on various committees — civic, political and religious — and almost all of them express such a distrust and a thinly disguised hatred of the white men with whom they come in frequent contact that it is simply amazing.

"No White Trusted"

And there is a saying current among Negroes to the effect that no white man is to be trusted.

These are the facts as this columnist sees them, but they are not very consoling facts. Two hatreds no more make for harmony than do two wrongs make a right.

Whether or not it would be desirable for the United States or any nation to lead the world, the fact remains that amicable relations among the groups which make up this country is a must if America is to see the realization of the dream by the founders of this republic.

American whites must abandon the arrogance which causes Negroes to have reason to hate them — and Negroes must somehow or other try to help them to be more lovable instead of extending toward them a psychically disturbing hatred.

SENTENCE BETWEEN THE LINES

By DEAN GORDON B. HANCOCK For ANP

THE LABORITE TREND IN ENGLAND

By REV. FRANK CLARENCE LOWRY (For ANP)

CAN THE WORLD SEE JESUS IN THE MIRROR OF YOUR SOUL?

It is impossible for any human being in this whole wide world around, not to reflect some acquired characteristics in some other persons found.

The impressions may be most alluring with an array of mystic charm; but to be inveigled by this kind of example, is to be exposed to serious harm.

Man, from the beginning was given many fine parts to shape his life and make it brighter — and having been made in the image of God, should be His human reflector.

But instead, for the most part he allows his animal nature to be seen, and from his conduct proves himself to be most unjust and mean.

This is why those emulating the life of Christ, must beyond a doubt have His mind; for this is the only and surest way man's animal nature can be left behind.

Christians are always on exhibition and must act with utmost care, for the unbeliever and so-called Christian carries good spy-glasses, to see if they are really on the square.

This test should not prove any terrible hardship for one who means to do right; because he delights in satisfying God, when even to others He appears out of sight.

A Christian should at all times shout highest praises for Him who gave His life that all men might live — and therefore in every circumstance, prove His gratitude by what daily he is willing to give.

With such a Divine process as your daily Christian Mould, it will be a very easy matter for the world to see Jesus in the mirror of your soul. Motivated by every noble purpose to see all men raised to a high and dignified role; your joy will be beyond expression — for truly then will the world see Jesus in the mirror of your soul.

The world today is in quest of the Master's image, reflecting something that never grows old; are you a carrier of his heavenly something — and can the world see Jesus in the mirror of your soul? This great asset, so matchless and invaluable — beyond the reach of silver and gold; are you enjoying its rich possession — can the world see Jesus in the mirror of your soul?

For good printing "In a hurry," phone The Indianapolis Recorder Printing Co., at LI. 1545. You will be pleased and proud of the work.

Sooner or later England is going socialistic for good. All of our millions in handouts cannot stem the tide of socialism and communism.

Unless we convince Europeans that democracy is an effective vital force for civic righteousness; unless we set the world a better example of democracy than we have thus far; unless we make our practice square with our profession, sooner or later we shall lose caste with the thinking European.

Even today it is difficult to estimate our favor in European eyes. The hungry nations over there have an eye on our exchequer. It is really difficult to say where their love for us ends and their love for our dollars begins.

It is with nations as with men, wealthy men never know just who their real friends are. When there is weeping at the bedside of the poor uncle we know that the tears are genuine; but when there is weeping at the bedside of the rich kin, we are never sure of the depth of grief.

"The Fabian Socialists"

Socialism came to England in such a substantial way that it is going to be difficult to stamp it out. The Fabian Socialists 50 years ago started inculcating Britain with the then famous notion of socialism. They decided, not to go after it directly in the Marxist fashion, but little by little with a long time perspective.

Their tactics were labeled "Fabian" after the Roman general, Fabius, who was assigned the colossal task of heading off Hannibal, the Carthaginian, who was out to subdue Italy. Fabius knew that his army could not match that of Hannibal, so he hit upon the idea of waiting and vacillating and postponing the decisive day of battle.

His delaying tactics suggested to the early socialists in England a strategy of winning England over to socialism. The Fabians, chief among whom was the late George Bernard Shaw, have won their fight. It is only a matter of time, and their dream will have come true.

Tories' Fall Predicted

The first socialist government in Britain was heralded as a political accident. Great old Winston Churchill exploited the idea and won back in England a Tory government. But recent elections, throughout Britain indicate an early end of Churchill and his conservative political cohorts. And so it appears that the Tory government will soon be replaced with another socialist government.

When England goes socialist again it will be for keeps. The seeds sown by the Fabians during the last 50 years are ready for harvest. It is true we have poured our billions into British coffers; but it is greatly to be feared, that we have failed to stem the tide of socialism in England.

Just as Germany got millions and millions after World War I from this country and finally went Nazi, so it appears that we are going to pay England not to go socialist, but socialist England will go sooner or later.

Battle of Ideas

Ideas must be combatted with ideas. Philosophies must be combatted with philosophies. Ideas can no more be combatted with dollars than they can with wars and rumors of wars.

Socialism is an idea just as communism, an "aggravated form of socialism," is. It is going to take ideas to combat these two potent rivals of our democracy.

Of course if democracy at its very best were given a chance, it is doubtful if any kind of ism could withstand it or threaten it; but the kind that the dixerats are serving to the confused world is not representative of the finer concept of democracy.

When our nation commits itself so bitterly against a program of civil rights in the eyes of the world, it is no wonder that even our billions cannot successfully combat socialism.

This writer is not opposed to even a gigantic outlay of money to stem the tide of communism; for how else can we defend our liberties in the given crisis? It is just this that makes this writer a non-complainer about the heavy taxes being levied by the nation. We must survive by all means, and by all means the tide of communism must be stemmed.

But this does not subdue the bristling fact that unless our dollar outlay is accompanied by a moral outlay, we are fighting a losing battle! Moral strength is still the greatest strength.

When our moral strength matches our money strength, the very Gates of Hell cannot prevail against us.

CLOWNS TO CLASH WITH WINDY CITY TEAM

MINOSO STILL HAUNTS TRIBE

The irrepressible ORESTES "MINNIE" MINOSO is still haunting the Cleveland Indians who had him last year and let him go to the Chicago White Sox.

On Memorial Day, Minnie returned to the Chisox lineup after 11 days' absence due to injury. Playing "practically on one leg," he walloped three homers as the Sox conked the Tribe in both ends of a double-header, 7-2 and 3-1.

The double defeat sent Cleveland skidding toward second place, where they arrived on Monday.

Of his trio of round-trippers, Minnie observed: "I didn't do so good — I only got three hits." Manager Paul Richards cautioned that Minoso was still ailing. Cleveland wondered: "What will happen when he gets well?"

But the Indians had HARRY SIMPSON to throw at any doubt.

ing Thomases who think they won't win the pennant. Continuing his storybook batting exploits, the Cleveland right fielder on May 29 got a grand-slam homer and three other hits in five at-bats, while the Tribe slaughtered Detroit 11-4.

Even in the Memorial Day fiasco, at Chicago, Harry was a hero in defeat. His homer spoiled Joe Dobson's potential shut out in the nightcap.

LARRY DOBY's tremendous homer May 28 at Detroit made conversation for days after the event. It was "one of the longest" (if not the longest) ever hit at Briggs Stadium. The ball soared over the fence at the 415-foot mark and landed about 20 dows up in the second deck. It was Larry's sixth of the season.

The old fox, SACHEL PAIGE, is compiling a cute record with effective relief work for the St. Louis Browns. He won his third and fourth victories of the season on May 28 and 30 (as against one defeat). Victims were the Chisox and Tigers respectively.

Walcott Guest At White House

By ALICE A. DUNNIGAN
WASHINGTON, D. C. (ANP) — Heavyweight Champion Joe Walcott thinks President Truman is a great man and hopes that he will change his mind about running again for President.

This revelation was made at the White House last week where the champ presented Mr. Truman with a "gold" pass for the title bout to be held in Philadelphia on June 5.

The President would make no commitments on whether he would attend the fight but said he hoped to attend if everything was going all right.

Walcott refused to talk freely with reporters about the forthcoming fight only stating that he had not thought much about how he would stack up against his opponent, Eddie Charles. He would wait until he meets him.

The 196-pound fighter won the championship from Charles in July 1951 on his fifth try at the heavy-weight title.

Jersey Joe was accompanied to the White House by Mayor George Brunner of Camden, N.J.; Dan Florio, his trainer, and Jack Fried, Philadelphia sports editor.

Minoso Clouts 3 In 1 Day

CLEVELAND (ANP) — The irrepressible Orestes (Minnie) Minoso after missing 11 games because of an injury celebrated his return to the lineup of the Chicago White Sox on Memorial Day with three home runs to lead his team to two victories over the league-leading Cleveland Indians.

Two of his four-baggers were game-winning blows. In the opener, he blasted a three-run circuit clout to erase a 2-1 Cleveland lead. His

SO LONG, WILLIE: The New York Giants' stellar center fielder, Willie Mays, is shown as he bade farewell to his baseball uniform last week, preparing to don the uniform of the U.S. Army. Here's Your Chance to Run All-Star Baseball Game!

Recorder readers again this year have a chance to help select the "Stars of Stars" who will participate in the annual All-Star baseball game, to be held at Philadelphia on July 8.

The Recorder—as in the past—is one of the newspapers taking part in the nationwide balloting to select the National League and American League aggregations that will fight it out in the All-Star game.

In the second game he clouted two homers with the bases empty. His first homer provided the run needed to win the game, and his second blow added insurance. The Sox won that game 3 to 1.

Minor League Notes

Louis Louden, 26, for a number of years a star catcher in Negro baseball, failed to catch on with the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League after five days of working out with the squad.

The general consul of the Dominican Republic in San Francisco personally asked that Outfielder Bob Thurman of the San Francisco Seals to let his country have Thurman for the summer season. Last winter Thurman starred for the Ciudad Trujillo club in the Dominican winter league. The nation wants him back for the summer, but so do the Seals, and they have him.

Gene Jacobs, a college star from the University of San Francisco may some day play with the San Diego Padres. The team is looking him over.

Pitcher Dan Bankhead of the Montreal Royals of the International League recently had to leave the club to go to his Brooklyn home because of illness to one of his children.

According to the Sporting News, Jim Pendleton of the Royals almost was a Detroit Tiger. He would have been delivered to the Tigers last summer but a change in general managers—Billy Evans to Charley Gehring—mixed the proposed action.

In the Texas League, Dave Haskins of the Dallas Eagles has a 7-3 pitching record. He is the workingest hurler in the loop with 92 innings pitched.

This is the democratic process by which "Mr. and Mrs. Fan" have their say in making up the "dream teams." It is especially important to vote for qualified Negro players, in order to offset any prejudice that may remain in the national pastime. But we urge you to vote for the best man at each position, regardless of race, creed or color.

All players except pitchers are to be voted on. You must vote for each man at the position he is playing when the poll opens, Friday, June 6. Balloting closes June 27.

Negro Big-Leaguers
To refresh your memory, here are the septa major league players, with their positions as we go to press:

IN ORDER TO VOTE, ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS FILL OUT THE BALLOT BELOW (IN WHOLE OR IN PART)—OR MAKE YOUR OWN LIST — AND MAIL OR BRING IT TO THE RECORDER.

518 INDIANA AVE., INDIANAPOLIS 7. We will forward your vote with others to the central clearing-house which is the sports department of The Chicago Tribune.

FIT AS A FIDDLE—While baseball fans all over the country held their breath, especially Brooklyn Dodger fans, ex-Dodger pitcher Don Newcombe went through an in-service check-up at Camp Pickett, Va., Army hospital last week. To further increase the gloom of the "Bums" who were dropped out of first place by the Giants the same day, the Army reported Wednesday that Newcombe had passed the special checkup and would definitely remain in the service.

Jackie Slumps; In Feud With Giant Pitcher

CHICAGO (ANP)—Jackie Robinson, second baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is on the road and hitting the news pages in several ways—he is in a batting slump; Rogers Hornsby sang his praises in a national magazine article, and he temporarily was involved in a feud about the pitching of Sal Maglie of the New York Giants.

Last week, Jackie's average dropped to .327 and he fell to sixth in batting in the National League.

Hornsby, one of the all-time greats and now manager of the revitalized St. Louis Browns, in a Look magazine article, wrote that Jackie would be a great player in the old days of baseball just as he is one today. His article defended modern baseball in answer to a recent article by Ty Cobb criticizing modern stars.

Hornsby wrote: "Does Cobb honestly believe Jackie Robinson, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, with his speed, power and fire, wouldn't have been a star in the old days? Robinson, Minnie Minoso, of the White Sox, and Sam Jethroe, of the Boston Braves, says Cobb, wouldn't have been able to steal bases against the old pitchers and catchers."

Once more, Jackie was involved in a feud with the New York Giants. It all came as a result of a 3-0 shutout pitched against Brooklyn by Sal Maglie of New York. During the game, Jackie asked for one of the balls because he said Brooklyn players claimed they saw scratched up balls in the ball bag.

The feud is about over on this issue now, Jackie commented: "I merely said the fellows on the bench said they had detected five scratched balls in the ball bag. I'm not accusing Maglie of anything. He pitched a whale of a game."

Catcher Roy Campanella of the Dodgers summed up the whole Maglie case as follows:

"Maglie is just a great pitcher, the best in the league. He doesn't need any artificial help."

Giants Strengthened With Return of Pearson

The Indianapolis Clowns, Eastern Division winners of both halves of the 1951 Negro American League race will play the Chicago American Giants here Tuesday, June 10 at 8:30 p. m. at Victory Field.

The American Giants winner of both halves of the race in the Western Division promise a colorful tilt as they are right on the heels of the Clowns, who are out front this season. The Giants will be reinforced by the return of Rutledge Pearson who was sidelined for two weeks following his being beamed in a game with Birmingham.

Indianapolis fans will be interested in the Clowns' shortstop, Henry "Hank" Aaron who has been signed by the Boston Braves and is due to report right after Tuesday night's contest. Aaron, who reminds the sport writers of Ted Williams, the Red Sox ace now in the air corps, at the bat, tops the Negro American League batters with .483 while Henry Merchant, fleet outfielder who has been shifted to right field replacing Dewitt Smallwood who is now with the white Brighton Blues of the Upper New York state league, tops the league with eight stolen bases.

Both clubs have excellent pitching in Leander "Schoolboy" Tugerson, tried out by the Chicago White Sox, and his brother Johnny, Jim "Fireball" Cohen, Ted Richardson, Willie "Rip" Collins and Johnny Marvary, all of the Clowns, and John Williams, Danny Wright, Art Shannon, Lefty Clyde Golden and Bill Beverly, formerly of the New Orleans Eagles and who came to the Giants from the army.

Both Buster Haywood, manager of the Clowns, and Paul Hardy, manager of the Chicago team, are catchers.

The Clowns have a great infield with Rube Williams at third, Neil on second, Aaron on short and Armando Vazquez at first. The Giants also boast of a great infield in Lawrence Raines in short, Don Johnson on second and Roy Williams Eugene Hamilton on third and either Rutledge or Joseph Vann Durnam at first.

The Clowns, as always, will present the great clown, Kig Tut, who this year may vie with Specs Bebob, the 4 foot, 4 1/2 inch funster who is pushing Tut for the applause of the crowd, much to Tut's embarrassment.

Bating order: CLOWNS—Wilkes, cf; R. Williams, 2b; Aaron, ss; Neil, 2b; Merchant, rf; Jenkins, lf; Vazquez, 1b; Sands or Haywood, c; J. Tugerson, L. Tugerson or Cohen, p.

Bating order: CHICAGO—Raines, cf; Johnson, 2b; Hancock, rf; R. Williams, 3b; Durham or Pearson, 1b; McLaurin, lf; Smith, cf; Hardy, c; J. Williams, Wright or Beverly, p.

Duke Ellington's Band in Concert at Murat Sunday

ALL YOU fine people who missed the "Dream Band" concert and dance last Sunday night at the Sunset, really passed up an opportunity to see and hear some of Naptown's finest musicians, vocalists and dancers. More than five combos appeared on the program and rocked the joint till the early brightness. But for the real lowdown, be sure and read Bob Wornack's column on the opposite page and another story on the front page.

The following letter came from two very close friends of the writer, who took time off for a flying trip to Kentucky, where they were royally received in that old fashioned Kentucky style. Nuf sed.

"Dear Saint"
"Perhaps we are a little late but we just had to drop you a line and let you know what a fine time we had last week end in Bowling Green, Ky., and parts thereof. Miss Mattie Jones joined us on the Greyhound and we went to Bowling Green. Miss Jones is a native of Bowling Green and she visited with her sister-in-law, and family, the Harry Nunn's. Mrs. Nunn has been seriously ill since January, but was improved while Miss Jones was there.

"We were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burford Page, Jr., and Mr. Board's aunt, Miss Maudie Board. . . Friday evening, we attended Commencement exercises of State Street High School, where Mr Board's eldest daughter, Juanita was graduating. His niece and nephew, Clarence Leonard and Mary Katherine Board, were also graduates. They are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fountain Board Smith Grove, Ky. After graduation, Mr. Board's niece Genevieve Board, entertained us at Nancy's Tea Room where fine food and refreshments are served. . . This swanky little place was built from the ground up by T. C. Brown. . . Mrs. Nancy Brown is proprietress and John L. Pippins is manager while Mrs. Pippins serves customers. . . We had a wonderful time here.

"Later, during our visit we stopped in a while at the very fine Elks' Rest and met Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Potter. Mr. Potter is the brother of Clifton Potter of Indianapolis. Marshall Hayne is the Exalted Ruler of Howard Walke, Lodge 1282, Bowling Green and Mrs. Bessie Hall is Daughter Ruler the Hattie Wolfe Temple 933. . . We met Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dorsey, who operate the lodge home and extend cordial welcome to all visiting Elks from Indianapolis to drop in and chat with them whenever in Bowling Green. . . In Brownsville, Ky., we were guests of Mr. Buford Page, Sr., his daughter, Miss Frieda Page, Mr. Board's other daughters, Patsy Jo and Annetta where we enjoyed a wonderful breakfast and dinner. . . We also met Mr. and Mrs. Ike Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Les Page. . . We talked with Wendell Ferguson of Indianapolis an this sister, Miss Evelyn Ferguson from Louisville, who were both in Brownsville because of their brother Lawrence's illness. . . The friendliness and hospitality of these fine people makes us want to go back again and visit in Bowling Green. . . Really that fine food and friendliness can't be beat. . ."

"Your friends,
Betty and Bob Board."

RAN INTO EUGENE and Evelyn (Fine Foods) McQueen last Monday and enjoyed a fine chat with the popular couple in their new Lincoln Cosmopolitan. . . Others seated in the car, parked in the 500 block were Bill Chambers and Charlie Davis. . . Sam McKee, whose wife is the new lovely addition at Brownie's Chili Parlor, and Gilbert Wayman, man-about-town, did the treats the other bright when we ran into them after leaving the picnic at the Hilltop Country Club. Incidentally, Mr. James Boyd of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Morrow of Detroit, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McKee. (Bernice) in Paris Avenue. MR. JESSE DAVIS and Stanley Walker were house-guests of Mrs. Fordella Harris and Mr. Dupree (sporty) Dancy in Camp Street over the holiday. While here they took in the Speedway Races and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey in Graceland Ave. They left the city early Sunday morning for Chicago.

THIEVES BROKE into my friend, Andrew (Big Perk) Perkins super-market down Indiana-Ave-way 'tother nite and relieved him of better than 2 grand, while the fella lay home recuperating from a recent illness. . . It was a dirty trick, if you ask me. . . But thieves will be burglars. . . It is high time that Avenue merchants employ a merchant policeman to guard their places during the nite. . . 'Twould be a good deal, me thinks. . . Eddie Hammond is still during a good job at his shoe repair shop in the 500 block and could use a few more paying customers. . . John Byrd and wife are also doing a good job at the Bargain Liquor store, located in the same block. They would appreciate having more of their friends drop in.

A NICE CARD came in from Mrs. Cyril (Skip) Burris, who is currently receiving her mail in Oakland, Calif. . . The young lady sends love to the gang and says she will be driving in soon. . . Glad to know she is on rubber. . . James Cummings, who is doing a stint in our Uncle Sam's Army was in for a short visit. . . The fella used to work on this sheet. ANOTHER CARD jumped in from Hiwatha (fite mgr.) Gray, Hortense (playgirl) Bowman and Horace (Oriental) Stone from Atlanta, Ga. . . The party is back and Hiwatha and George (Oriental) Graham are off to the Walcott—Charles championship fite in Philadelphia. . . Homer Stockton, Bill Smith and William (Iron Jaw) Robinson came in from Dayton for a visit with Mrs. Louise Bess in Boulevard Place. . . While here they visited with the writer and later took in the Cotton Club employees picnic at the Hilltop Country Club, Decoration Day nite. . . 'King of Jazz' Here For One Appearance Only Duke Ellington, who will appear in person with the greatest concert attraction in America at the Murat Theatre on Sunday nite, June 8 at 8:30 P. M., has played in ball-rooms, tobacco warehouses, armories, and all sorts of odd auditoriums where his product has been greeted with cries of "Solid!" "Hep!" "Out of This World!" The popular Jazz King comes to Indianapolis direct from a concert in Carnegie Hall for his only appearance in Indiana during the year.

The Duke has played concerts in Paris and at the Philharmonic in Los Angeles where it was hailed as revealing "the very secret of the atom" and an influence upon such great composers as Stravinsky and Ravel.

In Europe, Ellington gave concerts which were listened to and commented upon as seriously as one listens to a Bach or Beethoven composition. Henry Butler, writing in Sunday's Times, sums it all at the close of his Stage Music column when he said: "Of all the bands that come through here periodically, the Ellington outfit is just about tops in range of interest."

Tickets are now on sale at the Murat Box Office and Ross-Babcock Agency in the Claypool Hotel lobby.

ERROLL GARNER TAKES TWO
NEW YORK (ANP)—Erroll Garner has added two new sidemen to his group, beginning with his New Haven, Storeville engagement last week.

Bass replacement is Rodney Richardson of Cleveland, one-time Basie man. On drums, Garner now has Joe Harrison of Pittsburgh, a former drummer with Dizzy Gillespie's band.

THREE-YEAR-OLD Steve Bogart visits his illustrious father on the set of Twentieth Century-Fox's "Deadline—U. S. A.", the newspaper drama playing Sunday thru Wednesday at the Walker. Accompanying young Steve is his equally famous mother, Lauren Bacall (center), Ethel Barrymore, who co-stars with Bogart Sr. in the film, regards the child as a future edition of his father.

TEEN AGERS' PROBLEM: In the Howard Hughes presentation, "The Las Vegas Story," Colleen Miller and Chet Marshall portray a couple who want to get married before the latter's leave for service. In the background, Victor Mature, who co-stars with Jane Russell and Vincent Price in the RKO film, steps them, in his capacity of police lieutenant. The film starts Sunday at the Avenue.

"The Las Vegas Story" at Avenue Theatre Sunday

A mysterious diamond theft and murder keynote the tense drama "The Las Vegas Story," which Howard Hughes presents and in which Jane Russell, Victor Mature and Vincent Price are starred.

The encounter of these three people in a luxurious gambling palace in Nevada brings to life old oves, unmasks an embezzler posing as a rich broker and fastens a murder on an innocent man. The result provides a series of exciting episodes that end in a smash climax when the real killer is unmasked. Musical renditions by Miss Russell, the star, and Hoagy Carmichael, featured, provide entertaining interludes. These include "My Resistance Is Low," "I Get Along Without You Very Well" and "The Monkey Song."

LEW SIMPKINS HEADS RECORD CO.

By DAVE CLARK

CHICAGO (ANP)—Lew Simpkins one of the few Negroes in the nation to hold a top executive position with a leading record company, as head of the United Record company, last week announced the releasing of a new label by the United States label.

It will feature some of America's top recording artists in the blues, rhythm and spiritual field. States will feature such artists as Paul Bascomb and his band, Pittsburgh Courier poll winners now featured at the Club Alvaro in Detroit; the Giv Brothers, a new combination, and a spiritual group, the Caravans, featuring Albertine Walker as soloist.

For good printing "in a hurry," phone The Indianapolis Recorder Printing Co., at LL 1545. You will be pleased and proud of the work.

Equity Reveals Report of Negro 'Integration into American Theatre

NEW YORK (ANP)—Actor's Equity magazine has released a high tensed survey in its June issue on the integration of the Negro into the American theatre.

Written by Frederick O'Neale in "Anna Lucasta" and "Pinky" are.

The report stated that during the past year a number of organizations had been set up to explore and correct the situation regarding unemployment among Negro performers. Among members on these committees were many of the most famous personalities in the entertainment field, including Jernella Otis Skinner, Langston Hughes and Sidney Kingsley.

At the beginning of the present season to March 15, the survey revealed the following:
During the above period 49

plays reached Broadway which employed approximately 692 performers excluding understudies.

Of these 692 actors employed only 13 were Negroes. Of the 13 Negroes used, only three could be considered by any great stretch of the imagination to be employed in supporting roles. The others were all bit parts, extras or supers.

Only seven of the 49 plays employed Negroes at all. Of the 13 actors employed, only two are still working. These are in "The Shrike."

As of March 15, 1952 there were no Negro directors, stage managers, authors, composers, photographers, musical directors, publicity men, advance agents, casting agents or company managers. Nor relaxation during the evenings. The general public is invited to come and look the place over and shake hands with friends over this week end, during open house.

SAM LANIER and EILEEN HEATHCOCK, motored to Chicago over Decoration Day through Sunday for a visit with friends. The well known couple returned to Naptown early Monday morning. . . Gertrude Brown, the popular waitress at Brown's Chili Parlor, enjoys dishing out that fine service.

What's Doin' Among Bands

By BOB WOMACK

On last Sunday night the Sunset Terrace Ballroom really rocked. The occasion was the Annual Recorder Musicians "Grand Ball," and was one of the finest affairs held here in many a moon. If you wasn't there you missed a treat. The cats and gals jumped awhile. There were five orchestras besides the Dream Band Winners who held the crowd spell-bound with their sensational arrangements and acts. Harvey French, baritone poll winner and his Tillie's Lounge Combo acted as the house band with the following combos and orchestras on the bandstand during the evening: Merrill Laswell, Chas. Cox, Duddy Parker, Jr., and his Henri's unit, Count Fisher, West Montgomery and a host of other "greats" including Al Richardson, Oliver Bell, Dot Simmons, Little Peco, Teeny, Skinny Alexander (flashy dancer), Basie Christen, Chas. "Tex" Houston, Paul Weeden and many, many more. Leo Lessor, Jr., president of the United Amusement Agency Inc., and manager of the swank George's Bar presented the trophies and certificates to the winners with yours truly, assisting. Roger Jones, trumpet; Slide Hampton, trombone, the dance team of Leonard-Leonard and Francis Lindsey were unable to attend. However, your awards await you at the Recorder office . . . The "52" Recorder Annual Entertainers and Musicians Grand Ball will not be forgotten for a long time to come because the affair was real gone, thanks to Mr. St. Clair Gibson general manager of the poll contest. . . Dud Storms and his orchestra played for the Cotton Club Picnic at the Hilltop Country Club on May 30th. I had the pleasure to hear and meet the beautiful Mrs. Helen Walker, who is vocalist with Jimmy Cole's Recording Band. She sing a lot on the style of the famous June Richmond, incidentally her husband is the famous skin beater (drums), Earl "Fox" Walker, who is also a member of the same unit. The "Fox" became popular with Buddy Bryant, Tiny Bradshaw and Lionel Hampton. I understand, he is also a great fishman. Too I noticed that the Cole organization have two new sidemen (members) namely: Roger Jones and Ray Smith, who has moved from tenor to baritone sax. . . The lovely Aline Barnes, vocalist, is real crazy, knows what to do with a song. She was guest singer at the Udel Club on last Thursday (Celebrity Night) with the Bobcats All-Stars.

Tab Smith

It didn't take long for one of St. Louis' outstanding musicians, composers, and arrangers to hit the limelight after three years retirement. The world's greatest saxophonist gives credit to his recording of "Because of You" and the United Recording Company of Chicago. The little man and his big horns and orchestra are booked to play at the Sunset this coming Sunday night, June 8th. Smith, who gained national attention with Lucky Millinder and Count Basie retired in 1949. The music bug again struck Tab Smith in 1951 who was at that time interested in Real Estate business, he announced his All-Star Combo, the new band was spotlighted at D. C. Watson's Harlem Nite Club in St. Louis and attracted the attention of talent scout Lew Simpkins of United Records, who immediately signed them on a long term contract. The first release was "Because of You" and we all should know the story from there. . . The dance field reaps plenty of loot when you give the public a good beat with a simple melody Smith said. His current tour proved to be a tremendous success and he advises all bands to stay in the groove and let the people know what you are playing like Billy Mays and other bands. . . Hats off to Gene Pope, bandleader, promoter and smart businessman who is this column's "STAR OF THE WEEK." Mr. Pope has managed or owned more local nite clubs than any leader in the music profession. It is rumored that he has made some nice loot during his career. Many of the musicians and even bandleaders have worked for Gene at one time or other. At the present, the "Blowing Tenor Sax Business Man" is currently appearing at one of his nite spots with combo, namely: the Hill-Top Country Club. Mr. Pope advised me that he has just completed plans to buy another ballroom located on the road to Anderson. . . much luck to you, my friend, I know there will be many gigs available for the cats. . . William "Father" White is now one of our newest 88'ers (piano) in the city, he can be column will soon be read over the country, would appear in contacted at 938 S. Capitol Ave. . . It is rumored that this 135 or more race newspapers connected with the Associated Negro Press (ANP) that would be real nice don't you think?

Again, I will repeat the names of the "1952 Indianapolis Recorder Dream Band Winners" so that the public won't forget them, they are: Montan Phillips, piano (88), Count Fisher, drums (tubbs), West Montgomery, guitar; Bill Lane, bass; (dog house), Hat Alexander, tenor sax; Cleve Bottoms, alto sax; Harvey French, baritone sax; Slide Hampton, trombone; Roger Jones, trumpet; Eve Renee, female vocalist; Pro Mcclam, male vocalist; Leonard and Leonard, dancers; and Frances Lindsey, female dancer. The second place winners were as follows: Errol Grandy, piano, Al Richardson, drums; Paul Weeden, guitar; LeRoy Vinegar, bass; Buddy Parker, Jr., tenor sax; Jimmy Cole, alto sax; Bill Boyd, baritone sax; Bill Harris, trombone; Oliver Bell, trumpet; Dot Simmons, female vocalist; Bill Cox, male vocalist; Gay McDonald and Skinny Alexander, dancers. Nadine Birch is sporting a new combo.

Tab Smith, his saxophone and his popular dance orchestra, featuring "Because of You" and "Dee Jay Special," etc., will invade the Sunset dancery this Sunday nite, June 8 for a one nite dance engagement.

The popular stylist is a present day sensation with his ork, a combination of eight musicians, everywhere he plays. Tab hails from Kingston, N. C. and started music at the early age of 14 and comes from a musical family. You will enjoy dancing to the tune of this talented artist and his "jump" musicians, who are on the upbeat with the downbeat. Petite Betty Mays is an added attraction in the vocal department.

Other songs featured during the evening include "Hands Across the Table," "Sin," "Love" and many other popular song hits on United Records which have endeared the groovy saxophonist to millions across the nation.

For table reservations—Call the Sunset Terrace or Cafe.

MAHALIA JACKSON GIVES BOOST TO PALSY CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO (ANP)—Gospel singer Mahalia Jackson last week joined the parade of big name artists who are aiding in the fight against the cerebral palsy scourge.

Miss Jackson appeared on a 22-hour telethon conducted here last Saturday and Sunday by Sun Times columnist Irv Kupcinet. The queen of the gospel singers, not content with contributing her talent, made a brief appeal for financial support to the campaign and made a personal contribution of $100.

Miss Jackson was highly praised by columnist Kupcinet, not only for her generosity, but also for a moving rendition of "I've Heard of a City Called Heaven."

Humphrey Bogart in "Dateline - U. S. A., Walker Sun.

The battle of a free and vigorous press against the forces of big city corruption, where politics and crime has too often been found to go hand in hand, is delineated in "Dateline - U. S. A.," the new Twentieth Century-Fox melodrama opening tomorrow at the Walker Theatre, Sunday, June 8th.

Heading the cast of the realistic display are Humphrey Bogart, Ethel Barrymore and Kim Hunter.

Bogart, who is reportedly in rare form in the kind of part he is best associated with, plays a crusading editor who will not be intimidated by the rackets machine headed up by boss Tomas Rienzi, enacted in the film by the noted stage and screen character actor, Martin Gabel.

SMART AFFAIRS HELD OVER AT BOSTON NITE SPOT

BOSTON, Mass. (ANP) — Impresario Larry Steele and his "Smart Affairs" revue are experiencing as warm a reception as the British got here some years back when they brought over some boatloads of tea. The difference is that it's friendly warmth which is rewarding the efforts of Steele and his 35-member production.

RATING THE RECORDS

By ANP

Quite a stack of recordings have piled up on ANP record shelves since the last "Rating the Records" column was written a couple of months ago. J. Henry Randall, most recent proprietor of the ANP record shop, has found the pressure of other activities too great for him to carry on, so for the present you have a new reviewer.

In the next few columns, some old records will be included with the new. This week, the latest by Duke Ellington will be introduced along with this spinor's ideas about various recordings of the fervent song, "Kiss of Fire."

LISTENIN' TO THE DUKE

Duke Ellington has two exciting new discs—records that will either leave you gasping for more so that you may study them more fully or leave you absolutely cold. For the person who likes something of a melody in his music, "Strange Feeling" (Victor) coupled with "Balcony Serenade" is the better disc. For those who enjoy the more abstract, "Coloratura" and "Dancers in Love" (Victor) is the dish.

All four sides came from the Billy S. Rayhorn-Ellington composition, "The Perfume Suite." Possibly the enjoyment of them would be enhanced if a listener knew in just what order they should be played.

"Strange Feeling" features the voice of Al Hibbler. Al Hibbler fans and Duke fans will be delighted with the results. Hibbler's voice blends perfectly with the music of the band—almost to the extent that even those who do not like vocals would enjoy it. "Balcony Serenade" is a band number in the Duke tradition. William (Cat) Anderson is spotlighted in an unusual trumpet solo in "Coloratura" with a band backing that demands pensive listening and concentration for anyone to enjoy it. Here is jazz that demands more than patting of the feet to be enjoyed.

Even more demanding is "Dancers in Love." This is a duet with Duke at the piano and Alvin Raglin, Jr., on bass. After listening to this number several times this reviewer is not sure what he should say about it. It may be possible that only two lovers dancing can capture the true meaning of this piece.

Neither of these two Ellington records will be best sellers anywhere except among Duke's fans. They probably will spend hours just chatting about and listening to these discs. The time will be well spent because they probably will set at least one new idea with every new hearing. . .

"KISS OF FIRE"

To the world's many devotees of passion—secret and otherwise—the current rage, "Kiss of Fire" by Lester Allen and Robert Hill, is truly a boon. It is rare that you find a song with such a stirring heat combined with frantic words of, shall we say, lust, and even a pretty and singable tune.

leer's band gives out with its first agonized blast—and keeps going until the very last of the beige beauties of the chorus has sashayed off at the end of the final number. . . It looks like they'll need ropes for the doors for the next two weeks."

M. of the 14th day of June, 1952, and from day to day thereafter until sold, offer for sale at private sale, at 2401 Martindale Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana, the following described personal property belonging to said estate, to-wit:

Conditional Sales Contract to the real estate, known as 785 W. 25th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana; the same being more particularly described as Lot 54 in Allen's Second North Addition to the City of Indianapolis, as per plat thereof, recorded in Plat Book 5, page 16, in the office of the Recorder of Marion County, Indiana; the same being the real estate sold to Eules Gerratt and Birtie Mae Garrett, husband and wife, by said decedent, on said Conditional Sales Contract, under date of the 1st day of September, 1949.

Said executor will also offer for sale at said time and place, the equity of his said decedent, in a contract for the sale of a 1949 Pontiac automobile, engine number 88820097; said automobile was sold on contract by said decedent to Pauline Mann, under date of September 15th, 1951.

Said property will be sold for not less than the full appraised value thereof and for cash.
JAMES A. DUPEE, Executor
This notice dated June 2nd, 1952.

Guests Converge Upon Franklin For Memorial Day

FRANKLIN—A host of out-of-town visitors converged upon Franklin over the holiday weekend. From Muncie came Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Mayfield and her sister and Mrs. Margaret Taylor.

Also from Muncie was Mrs. Irvin Dunn, along with Messrs. and Mesdames James Allen and George M. Robinson Jr., Indianapolis, were guests of Miss Ethel Harnett. Mrs. Mattie McAtee has returned to her home in Detroit after spending the week-end with relatives.

Sgt. and Mrs. John A. Poynter, visited his brother in Dayton, while Mrs. Benjamin Cloyd is still visiting relatives in Columbus, O.

Mrs. Bessie Wilhite has gone to Buffalo, N.Y., to be with her daughter, whose husband is in the hospital.

Mrs. Marcella Lee has returned to her home after being very ill in Johnson County Memorial Hospital.

Red Cross Seeks Volunteers for Motor Service
Red Cross Motor Service volunteers are being recruited by the Indianapolis Chapter to serve as daytime workers particularly for the summer months. Red Cross will train volunteers to drive such Chapter vehicles as station wagons, carryalls and the mobile kitchen truck.

Motor Service drives hospitalized veterans to entertainment and fishing trips as well as entertainers and Red Cross Canteen to Army and Veterans Administration Hospital parties.

Crippled children regularly are motored to hospital clinics by a volunteer contributing in no small way to the improvement and sometimes eventual recovery of the child who is tomorrow's citizen.

When disaster strikes, Motor Service is ready to haul equipment, medical supplies and staff to the disaster scene so that victims can receive emergency food, clothing, shelter and medical care as soon as possible.

Blood Service is kept on the road by Motor Service transporting doctors and nurse to mobile operations in other counties. Donors are driven from place of business, to and from blood centers.

Motor Service workers keep Red Cross rolling with their service on wheels. Teachers and students with free drive-time hours this summer will volunteer with Motor Service.

Four Graduate At Logansport School
LOGANSFORT — Julia Ann Dunn, Louise Williams, Harrison Smith, and Dorothy Gaines were among the graduates from Logansport High School last week.

Two Cicero, Ill., Riot Defendants Are Freed

CHICAGO (ANP)—Two defendants in the Cicero riot case were cleared of charges as the second week of testimony was concluded in the U.S. District court of Judge Walter J. LaBuy.

Five defendants still face charges in connection with the anti-Negro riot last summer in the all-white suburban town of Cicero against the moving of a Negro family into an apartment building there. The trial was recessed for Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Accused in this case originally were seven Cicero officials and policemen, facing charges on two counts—conspiring to keep the family of Harvey E. Clark Jr., a war veteran and college graduate, from moving into an apartment building at 6139 W. 19th st. and depriving him of his constitutional rights under the 14th Amendment by not giving him equal protection of the law.

Judge LaBuy freed town president Henry J. Sandusky and fire chief Theodore H. Wesolowski on the grounds that there was no case against them.

Police Chief Faces Trial
Still facing trial are Police Chief Erwin Konovsky, town Atty. Nicholas Berkes, Police Sgt. Roland Brani, and two police officers, Frank Janacek and Frank A. Lange.

Other late developments in the trial are:

The prosecution wound up testimony highlighted by a statement from a white business man and a white police officer that Cicero policemen did not intend to do anything to stop the mobsters.

Testimony for the defense was opened with Mrs. Camille De Rose, owner of the mobbed building, taking the stand at request of the defense.

"Clarks to Be Chased Out"
Results of the windup of the prosecution were as follows:

Ralph Hartough, general superintendent of the Central Cold Storage Co. told the jury, which is all white, that he saw one policeman try to stop the white mobsters but no other officers tried to help him. He said he asked an officer why nothing was done and received this reply:

"Colored people are trying to move in. Our chief warned these people to stay out of here."

Patrolman Charles J. Kucera told the court he heard Sgt. Brani order Policeman Lange to "chase" the Clarks out of town by July 8. The riot occurred July 10-12.

Chief Patrick C. Tuohy, chief of the Cook County highway police, declared that Cicero police "could have" broken up the mob, but "failed to exert themselves" to halt the violence. He said he was on duty all three days of the rioting. He also said he asked Police Lt. Chris Rooney for the fire hose "but Rooney just walked away from me."

The defendants asked Mrs. De Rose to come to the stand in an effort to prove that the riot was related to the efforts of the owners to sell the building. She had to explain how her attorney, George C. Adams, acquired the building in his name. She said Adams had promised he would get her $100,000 for the place.

A minister also testified for the defense. The Rev. Bartlett Hess, pastor, Warren Park Presbyterian church of Cicero, said he tried to talk Clark out of moving into the flat. Rev. Hess said on June 8 Clark told him:

"I am a veteran. My family needs a flat, and I'm going to move in." Cicero police, he said, averted a riot that day and again on June 10. The building was shacked a month later when the Clarks moved in.

The Clark family lost their family possessions when the mob looted their apartment during the riot. The National Guard had to be called in to restore order.

Today, the Clarks live on Chicago's south side in the famed Michigan Boulevard apartments, popularly known as the Rosenwald Clark who then worked as a bus driver for the Chicago Transit Authority, had to quit his job because he could not do his work as too many curious people asked questions. He now works as a sausage salesman for a local colored firm.

change should be made.

The Rev. Archibald J. Carey Jr., pastor of Quinn Chapel AME Church, Chicago, said:

"To see no urgency for the change. The word 'transgressions' has a majesty to it."

However, other ministers favored the change because they considered "sin" the "closest modern word" to Christ's original intended meaning.

They also praised the proposal because it would bring Protestant uniformity on the Lord's Prayer. Bible scholars also disagreed on the revision issue. Harris Franklin Rall, Garrett Biblical Institute, approved the change and said in part:

"I would approve the change. 'Sin' best conveys the meaning of the original Greek. Today it would be simple and accurate usage."

However, Kenneth S. West, professor of Greek at famed Moody Bible Institute, disapproved. Among other things he said:

"The literal translation is 'debt.' Other scholars felt that all three translations were all right."

20 Million Bibles Printed In U. S. in 1951

NEW YORK (ANP)—The first book to be printed after the printing press was invented some 500 years ago was the Bible. And it has never been off the presses since.

More than 20,000,000 copies were sold during 1951, and 1952 promises to be an even more productive year.

That was revealed in the American Bible Society board of managers' report for 1951.

"Public interest in the Bible in 1951 was the greatest in history," the Rev. Eric M. North, general secretary of the society, told the 136th annual meeting of the American Bible Society here.

The work of the society has been expanded to serve the peoples of about 50 nations, with 15 offices in the United States and a like number abroad.

Greatest gains in sales were made in Latin America, with the West Indies agency, embracing Cuba, Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, Haiti and the Virgin Islands, reporting a record circulation of 581,376 volumes.

In Mexico, distribution surpassed that of 1950 by 56 per cent and that of 1949 by 80 per cent. In Central America, a significant trend was the demand for whole Bibles, which increased by 35 per cent, and total distribution of whole Bibles, testaments and portions increased by 22 per cent.

An unprecedented circulation of 1,510,712 volumes of Scripture, of which 190,797 were whole Bibles, was achieved in Brazil, almost double the previous figure.

CUBA NOTES ANNIVERSARY OF FOUNDING OF REPUBLIC

By CLAUDE A. BARNETT

HAVANA, Cuba (ANP)—In a riotous display of fireworks, military and civic parades and with thousands of citizens milling about the streets in festive holiday mood, Cuba last week celebrated the 50th anniversary of winning her freedom from Spain and the founding of the Republic of Cuba.

Grandstands thrown up overnight along the Paseo del Prado as far as the National Capitol where President Batista lives were filled with the happy throngs of varied colors and shades.

They were Cubans, proud of their country, and proud of their people. Black or white, brown or tawny, Cubans quickly tell you, "every one born in Cuba is a Cuban" and they act the part.

Even throngs of Americans latched onto the spirit of the occasion. They were there by the thousands because due to conventions meeting there including the Southern Baptists who adjoined their conference in Miami and came to Havana for a final session.

One of the focal points for the group of American Negro physicians and their wives who were touring the Caribbean under the auspices of the National Medical Association was the Club Atenas which held a special event celebrating the occasion.

The Americans of color were the guests of the Atenas Club, one of the finest private clubs operated by people of Negro descent any where in the world. The ornate three storied building with its marble pillars and its impressive furnishings is located in downtown section.

Senator Prisciliano B. Piedra, president of the Atenas Club, and its officers, Dr. Miguel Angel Cespedes, Dr. Juan Jerez Villereal, Dr. Leopoldo Horrogo Estuch, Drs. Anahregoyen de Canizares, Gaston Bagueiro and Armando Guerra, welcomed the guests.

Hosts Among Visitors

Among the Americans were Dr. and Mrs. Will M. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Mercer, Dr. Edward Charles Mitchell, Mrs. Annie Hightower and her daughter, Barbara Ann, Mrs. Minnie S. Watson, all of Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Borders of Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Lucille Chambers Norman of St. Albans, New York City, and Dr. LeRoy Dabbs of St. Louis.

The group enjoyed Havana. The tourists visited the largest cigar factory, the most important distillery, Morro Castle, Gen. Maceo's Memorial, "Our Lady of Mercy," the most beautifully decorated church in the country; Tropicana, said to be the world's most beautiful night club; the Casino, and a jai alai game during their brief but crowded stay.

Probably the sentiment they will remember longest, however, was a phrase constantly repeated by Cubans of every hue: "We know no color in Cuba, no matter what his station everyone is a Cuban."

MAKE-UP WON'T HIDE CALENDAR LOOK

But this scientific way may avoid showing monthly "nerves"

All the make-up in the world can't take that drawn, weary look out of your eyes each month. But here is a modern way that has helped many women and girls who suffer from calendar misery, nervousness and tired eyes. It's Cardui, a tested medicine that helps build strength and resistance each month. So, after a time, many women feel no monthly cramps at all. Also helps relax jittery nerves—sleep better. Look, feel your normal, happy self. Ask your dealer for Cardui. (Say: "card-you-ee").

Gen. Ridgeway Talks of Troops, Nothing About Integration

By ALICE A. DUNNIGAN
WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—During his brief visit to Washington between two of the most important military assignments in history, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway said that a tremendously important development took place in Korea with the union of troops of all races and colors.

After succeeding Gen. MacArthur to the Far East Command, General Ridgeway was given credit for having carried out the President's order to abolish segregation in the Armed Forces in that combat zone.

The general boasted of the efficiency of the United Nations Army in Korea which was formed of soldiers representing 16 countries.

Local Minister On Institute Program at Fisk

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Dr. Clark Buckner, Indianapolis, Ind., will be on the speakers' program of the annual Fisk University Inter-denominational Ministers' Institute here June 16-20. Dr. Lyman V. Cady, of the department of religion is director of the institute.

Dr. Buckner is the director of evangelism of the churches, representing the Department of Evangelism of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Two major emphases are related to programs for the churches throughout the nation. Looking forward to the publication in September of the completed Bible in the American Revised Standard Version, Dr. J. Philip Hyatt of Vanderbilt School of Religion, and a member of the translation committee for the Old Testament, will interpret this work together with the whole story of "How We Got Our Bible." The other theme, "Visitation Evangelism," will be presented by Dr. Buckner.

Two series of inspirational addresses will be given by Dr. Wm. J. Faulkner, Fisk University minister, and by Dr. Carleton L. Lee, Chaplain of Tuskegee Institute.

The members of the department, Professor Wilson Q. Welch, Professor Lee O. Scott and Professor Lyman V. Cady, will be responsible for the Seminars—"New Frontiers in Rural Church Life," "Contemporary Voices in Christian Theology," and "What It Means to be a Protestant."

The Institute invites ministers of all denominations and churches to take advantage of this opportunity. Inquiries by phone or letter should be directed to Dr. Lyman V. Cady, director, Department of Religion, Fisk University.

A. HARRIMAN WINS OVATION ON ISSUE OF CIVIL RIGHTS

CHICAGO (ANP)—Averell Harriman made a major speech in Chicago Wednesday, May 28, when he spoke at the Roosevelt college dinner to a throng which packed the grand ballroom of the Palmer House.

It was the first speech which Harriman, director of mutual security and now mentioned as one of the foremost candidates for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, has made in the Middle West since his hat was thrown in the presidential ring.

Introduced by Gov. Adlai Stevenson, himself regarded favorably as presidential timber, Harriman heard himself praised as a citizen who had given of his great talent in whole hearted service to his country in high level diplomatic and governmental tasks for 20 years. Gov. Stevenson said he is truly fitted by strength, capability and experience to fill the post of chief executive of the United States.

Harriman in his address noted a number of remedies which he felt could help to heal the world's difficulties. Former administrative officer of NRA, lend-lease administrator in London, ambassador to Great Britain, secretary of commerce, Marshall Plan administrator, special assistant to the President, and former ambassador to Russia, Harriman indicated positive ideas on how to move to contain the Kremlin and Stalin.

He said the United States had the strength, the wisdom, the manpower and the ability to do the job. He urged unity of thought, abandonment of isolationism, and encouragement of our allies. He assailed congressional cuts in the mutual security and Point 4 budgets.

To the generous sprinkling of "colored people at the dinner, one of the high points came when Harriman declared that one of the jobs the United States was big enough to conquer and master was that of assuring every American citizen his civil rights.

"We must assure that all of our people have a stake in our democracy," Harriman declared. "Race, color, creed or national origin must not affect the opportunities of any American to share all of the benefits as well as all of the responsibilities of full citizens of the United States."

President Edward J. Sparling of Roosevelt and Gardner Stern, vice-chairman of the trustee board, presided. Among the participants was Miss Mary Crowley, dramatic soprano.

BUSINESS LEAGUE: Moss H. Kendrix, Washington, D. C., public relations counselor, will serve as consultant in public relations for the National Negro Business League at the League's national offices in Washington. Mr. Kendrix is also a public relations representative for the National Education Association and the Coca-Cola Company.

AFRICAN NATIVE GETS HARVARD DEGREE IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (ANP)—Eze Anyanwu Ogueri, Nigerian student who holds two fellowships at the Littauer Center of Public Administration of Harvard University, has become the first African to be awarded the degree of Master of Public Administration.

A graduate of Adelphi College, Garden City, New York and president of the Harvard Club of West Africa, Ogueri is also Littauer Fellow in political science.

In Georgetown, British Guiana Dec. 27, 1951 the British Guiana League of Colored People sponsored a mammoth demonstration with 10,000 persons marking its annual "Eze Day," recalling the 1950 visit of Ogueri to the country.

La. Stickup Men Nabbed in Gun Battle

NEW ORLEANS (ANP)—A running gunfight highlighted by blazing pistols, resulted in the capture here last week of two bandits.

The yeggmen were in the act of holding up an oil station when they were spotted by two city patrolmen. They were identified as Elie Lewis, 26, and Wilbert Augustine. Both were booked with armed robbery and Lewis additionally with two counts of attempted murder.

Lewis was captured under a shed near the scene of the crime. On learning that his aide, Augustine, driver of the getaway car, ran out on him he disclosed the identity of the latter to the police.

According to the police, they were cruising about during the early morning hours and spotted Lewis holding up the oil station and sent for help. The bandit, unaware that he was being watched, ordered the station attendant to open the cash register.

Lewis grabbed for the money and the attendant slammed the drawer on the holdup man's hand. With his free hand Lewis slugged the attendant and fired one shot at him, missing.

The officer attempted to fire back but his gun jammed. The bandit then fled to the rear of the station and Lewis airdied himself over a high fence. A shot at him went wild.

Two city detectives were now on the scene and Lewis was cornered in a shed. The three tussled briefly. Lewis was overpowered when he lost his gun.

Augustine was captured shortly afterward. Augustine was employed at the station and was due to go to work a few hours later.

Seretse Khama's Tribesmen Cry Curse on British

SEROWE, Bechuanaland (ANP)—Britain's colonial representative was greeted with curses and insults last week when he tried to read to Bamangwato tribesmen an official statement on the permanent exile of their leader, Seretse Khama.

The statement issued by British Commonwealth secretary, was in reply to a tribal delegation that went to London recently in a vain attempt to have the ban on Seretse lifted.

Philip Batho, British district commissioner for the Bamangwato tribe, called a meeting to read the reply. After an hour-long uproar of hoots and shouts he gave up with shouts of "We want Seretse" ringing in his ears.

The tribal delegation to London last month charged that Britain feared offending the government of the Union of South Africa, which adjoins Bechuanaland. South Africa forbids mixed marriages. Seretse was banned because of his marriage to a white woman.

Back of your handy and dependable telephone Indiana Bell has two million miles of wire.
And more is going in every day . . . most of it in cable to protect it from the weather.

Wire and all other equipment cost a lot of money these days, for we have to buy at present high prices—just like you!

But we're going right ahead with our program of improvement and expansion.

It means paying out more than a million dollars a month this year to bring you even better service.

TWO MILLION MILES OF WIRE

... at your service when you make a telephone call

One measure of your telephone's worth is the number of other telephones you can reach. The central office scene at left shows "phone wires" fanned out. Cross-connections are then made so you can talk to anyone, anywhere!
